

Unions Get New Plea To Chase Reds

Senators Also Call For Tougher Laws Against Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee backed up a House committee today in coupling a plea to unions to toss out any Communist leaders with a call for tougher laws against subversives in organized labor.

The Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) issued its report to the Senate on a four-day hearing at Salt Lake City last October into the leadership of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In a statement from its headquarters, the union accused McCarran of "acting on behalf of big mine operators in a campaign to behead and dismember this union."

The union, now unaffiliated, was expelled by the CIO in 1950 on the ground that it followed the Communist party line.

The subcommittee report exhorted the 100,000-member union to "rid itself of its present leadership" and called for a federal law to:

1. Bar Communists from holding office in or being employed by any labor organization.

2. Permit employers to fire workers who belong to organizations designated by the attorney general as subversive.

McCarran introduced such a bill in the last Congress but it died in a judiciary subcommittee.

The miners' union statement said McCarran "aims to wreck this union by the same methods he is using in his wild attempt to wreck the United Nations."

It challenged the committee's transcript of the hearing, saying there were errors and omissions and adding: "We intend to request that the Senate take appropriate steps to learn whether these errors and omissions are inadvertent or whether something more sinister was involved."

The McCarran subcommittee report follows the final year-end report to Congress released Saturday night by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The House committee denounced Communism in some trade unions as "a national disgrace" and recommended repeal of a Taft-Hartley law requirement that union officials must file non-Communist affidavits.

"This provision of the law, after a start as intended by its authors, is now working to the benefit of members of the Communist party engaged in the field of labor," the House committee said.

Under the provision, it was explained, an individual could swear in the non-Communist affidavit that he was not a member of the Communist party on the day he signed it but could be a member the day before and the day after.

The House committee also renewed its previous recommendations that:

1. Spies and saboteurs be subjected to the death penalty in peacetime as they are in wartime.

2. Wire-tapped testimony be admitted as evidence in espionage cases.

3. The executive branch of government open its secret files more freely to congressional investigators.

The Senate subcommittee urged the Justice Department to consider prosecuting for perjury those officers of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union who signed non-Communist affidavits, as required by the Taft-Hartley law, and who were named as Communists during its October hearings.

McCarran, in a statement accompanying the report, said:

"The evidence before us indicates the leadership of this union is heavily impregnated with Communist influence. . . . I sincerely hope that the revelations of this hearing will encourage the entire membership to revolt."

He said the committee was told 100 locals already have broken away from the top leadership of the union, adding:

"An overwhelming proportion of the membership has no Communist connection. . . and cannot let themselves be used as catpaws by subversive agents."

The House committee recommended federal investigation of every labor organization to determine whether its leaders were Communists.

Liquor Store Sets Extra Hours For Holiday Rush

Following a statewide policy, the State Liquor Store at E. Sixth and Walnut Sts. will open two hours early Tuesday and Wednesday to handle the expected New Year's rush.

Stores will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., instead of the usual 11 a. m. to 7 p. m. The Liquor Department announced today at Columbus. The same longer schedule of hours was followed for the pre-Christmas rush.

JAPANESE WAIF HAS MOTHER NOW. It's a happy moment for Ruth M. Wysor, Service Club director at Hall Air Force Base, Ogden, Utah, and for Frances Marie, 6, a Japanese child she adopted, for a special bill of Congress has decreed that the little girl can become a legal U.S. resident. Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Gen. Douglas MacArthur helped bring this about. It seems that when Frances was three days old she was handed to Miss Wysor, then a Red Cross worker in Yokohama, by two MPs. Frances was given to a Japanese missionary to be cared for.

Reds Stopped In Smash At Sniper Ridge

Allied Infantrymen Hurl Back Heaviest Attack In 2 Weeks

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Reds hurled their heaviest attack in two weeks against embattled Sniper Ridge last night but the massed fire of dug-in Allied infantrymen drove them back.

The crack of rifle and machine-gun fire echoed across the frozen Kumhwa Ridges on the Central Front for five hours in the frigid predawn darkness.

The Reds first attacked with two platoons, then built up to company strength—almost 200 men. The Chinese lost an estimated 42 men in their abortive assault on a spur of Sniper Ridge known as Rocky Point.

Only brief and isolated fights were reported elsewhere along the front.

An officer on the Western Front said the Chinese sharply increased their artillery fire on that sector late today. The Red gunners dumped 600 rounds into a comparatively small area. They have been unusually quiet on the Western Front for several days.

Cloudy skies and snow squalls grounded most Allied warplanes. A 200-plane raid by Allied aircraft Sunday blasted a sprawling troop center near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. Sabre jets flying protective cover destroyed two Communist MIGs, probably destroyed a third and damaged a fourth.

Mild Weather Seen Tuesday

Low Tonight To Hit Between 25 and 30

The Ohio forecaster today promised fair and mild weather for Tuesday after sending the East Liverpool district its coldest reading of the season—a frosty 14 degrees—early Sunday.

The mercury hung below the freezing mark throughout the week end, but it will climb into the 35-40 degree range this afternoon, encouraged by sunshine, the weatherman said.

The low tonight will be 25 to 30 degrees, the forecaster said.

The 14-degree reading that set a new low for the season was recorded Sunday at 6 a. m. at Dam 8, near Newell. The mercury climbed slowly, hitting a high of 30 at 4 p. m.

The temperature dropped back to 23 at 10 p. m. Sunday and stayed there the rest of the night.

Council May Choose New Member Tonight

Election of a First Ward Councilman to replace Bert H. Goodballet may be considered at City Council's special meeting tonight at 6:30.

Goodballet was named council president, effective Jan. 1, by Mayor Arnold W. Devan to succeed W. A. Southan, who resigned to become a Columbiana County commissioner Jan. 5.

Two applications for the vacancy have been filed with Clerk Raymond H. Goodman and indications are that more will be submitted.

Eisenhower Asks Advice On Controls

Extension Studied; 14-Man Agricultural Committee Named

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower has instructed a group of advisers to come up with recommendations on whether the new administration should ask Congress to extend wage-price control authority beyond April 30.

In another field, Eisenhower last night named a 14-man agricultural advisory committee to help draft the incoming administration's farm program.

The committee was appointed by Eisenhower after conferences with Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture-designate, and it will work with Benson. The group of farm specialists is headed by W. I. Myers, dean of the Agriculture College at Cornell University.

The committee is an interim unit which will serve between now and inauguration day, Jan. 20, and perhaps for a while thereafter. It probably will be succeeded by a bipartisan federal agricultural commission, which Eisenhower said during the campaign he would create if elected.

The President-elect was returning to his Commodore Hotel office today for the first time since last Wednesday, when the headquarters was closed for the Christmas weekend.

Only two visitors were on the calling list today—Boston banker Robert Cutler, who served as an adviser during the campaign, and Paul G. Hoffman, former chief of the Marshall Plan foreign aid program in the Truman administration and now head of the Ford Foundation. Hoffman also was an adviser to Eisenhower during the campaign.

Hoffman said after a recent conference with Eisenhower that for personal reasons he was not in the market for a job in the new administration. Cutler called on the general last week and said "we didn't talk about that—yet" when asked by newsmen whether he would take a government job.

The problem of what to do about wage-price controls is regarded by Eisenhower associates as one of the knottiest confronting him.

The present wage-price control law expires April 30.

Eisenhower's position during the campaign was that he wanted to see wage-price curbs junked as soon as feasible. He will have to decide in the early days of his administration whether this spring will be a feasible time.

He also will seek advice on the wage-price control issue from Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate Republican leaders. The general, who already has conferred with House GOP leaders, may meet with the Senate group this week. The Stalin peace overtures also are likely to be discussed with the senators.

The announcement of Eisenhower's appointment of an interim agricultural advisory committee said the members had been selected to represent a cross-section of the agriculture industry.

The general is without authority to create any formal commission until he takes office. The interim committee will serve until then. Besides Myers, members of the committee are:

Jesse W. Tapp of San Francisco, vice president of the Bank of America; John H. Davis of Boston, vice president of the National Wool Marketing Corp.; Carl Farrington of the Archer-Daniels-Midland Company, Minneapolis; Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro, N. C., master of the State Game; Romeo Short of Brinkley, Ark., vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Homer R. Davison of Chicago, vice president of the American Meat Institute.

Also, D. W. Brooks of Atlanta, general manager of the Georgia Cotton Producers Association; Milo Swanton of Madison, Wis., executive secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture; Bert Wood of Corvallis, Ore., head of the agricultural economics department at Oregon State College; Albert Mitchell, Republican national committeeman from New Mexico and president and general manager of the (Turn to CONTROLS, Page 7)

Police Hunt 3 Who Stage Holdup At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O. (AP)—Police searched today for three gunmen who held up the assistant manager and a clerk of the A & P supermarket here.

The three got $180 in cash and $89 in checks from assistant manager Louis Brandau and one of his employees, Miss Minnie Merrick 28, Saturday night.

Then they tied the pair and left. Brandau managed to break his bonds early Sunday morning.

Follansbee Police Arrest 3 Soldiers

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va. (AP)—Follansbee police arrested three soldiers today and announced they were holding them for the FBI to be charged with driving a stolen car across state lines.

In custody were Pvt. James Keyes, 24, of Chicago, Pvt. Edgar Diller, 20, of Springfield, O., and Pvt. Charles J. Fueston, 20, of Follansbee.

Police said they caught Keyes and Diller—both AWOL from Camp Breckenridge, Ky.—siphoning gasoline from a truck into a car which they said had been stolen 10 days ago from a Detroit parking lot. They arrested Fueston, also from Breckenridge but on leave, later.

Cause of the crash was believed to be mechanical trouble.

Lausche And Patrol Seek Ways To Check 'Highway Slaughter'

Business Looks Good In New Year

Sawyer Warns 1955 Shapes Up As Key Test For Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and a team of government and private economists predict good business in the new year, a possible downturn in 1954 and a sharp economic test in 1955.

The economy has strong built-in safeguards against a depression in the coming years, Sawyer said, expressing the view that the chief peril, as defense spending slackens off, is fear and uncertainty, not economic weakness.

"The situation is sound," Sawyer said in a personal preface to the 80,000-word report on "Markets after the Defense Expansion."

The report, made public last night, was prepared as a guide to business conditions in the final stages of the defense buildup and after spending for military purposes turns down. The crucial year will be 1955, it said.

It predicted defense spending will reach a peak of 55 to 60 billion dollars late in 1953, will run at peak levels through 1954 and will fall off in 1955 to 50 to 55 billions. Defense expenditures would then go on down toward a more or less permanent level somewhere between 40 and 50 billion dollars a year, it said.

Meanwhile, it said, spendable income may go up 7 per cent.

The report was written by the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics after a six-month study in which other government agencies and the Committee for Economic Development (CED) co-operated.

The report said businessmen plan expenditures in 1953, 1954 and 1955 for new plant and equipment close to this year's record level of nearly 27 billion dollars.

The report cited this—plus continued population growth, unfilled needs for schools, hospitals and highway building, modernization and replacement, possible tax reductions, sizable individual savings, and social security benefits—as major offsetting factors to slackened defense spending and any tendency toward recession.

But the report came up with the conclusion that bigger production and purchasing power are the keys to locking out depression.

The survey assumed international conditions and U. S. military goals in the next three years would not appreciably change.

Because the economy is now more or less keeping pace with both civilian and military requirements, the report said, there will be neither a backlog of demand nor a lull in 1955.

In the present national security program, military spending is expected to reach a peak at about 15 to 17 per cent of the gross national product and to drop to a maintenance level of about 12 per cent.

Among principle points in the report were these:

1. "The strong probability, though of course no certainty, of another year of good business in 1953."

2. "A downturn in 1954 is a real possibility."

3. "The projected decline in defense spending in 1955 would provide a serious test of the economy. . . . Thus, 1955 appears to be a year in which it will be of major importance sizably to expand private markets."

4. Personal income after taxes in 1955 may be 240 billion dollars, an increase of 7 per cent over 1951.

5. No major price raises are indicated in the near future.

6. A timely year for tax cuts would be 1955, when both government and private spending may be slackening off.

Latest Truman Statement Hit By MacArthur

General Charges Ouster Explanation Was 'Inaccurate'

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's description of a statement by President Truman as "inaccurate and misleading" today stimulated anew the controversy around the general's ouster as Far East commander.

MacArthur, in a statement issued here last night, took issue with a reported comment by Truman that he relieved MacArthur because the general "wanted to involve us in all-out war in the Far East."

The United Press quoted the President as making the statement Saturday in an interview he gave to its White House correspondent. It was one of a series of year-end interviews granted by the President to White House newsmen.

In Washington last night, White House Press Secretary Roger Tubby said Truman would have no comment on the MacArthur statement. Tubby said the President "made his statement and is sticking by it."

Courtney Whitney, retired major general and a top aide of MacArthur, gave out the latter's statement. It said in full:

"President Truman's statement yesterday (Saturday), as reported in the press, that I 'wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East' is inaccurate and misleading."

"My purpose and desire was not to extend the war but only to end it. At that time, this could have been accomplished with only a fraction of the approximately 70,000 American battle casualties which have since resulted. Actually, the longer it lasts the greater the chance of its spreading. How anyone could use such a bloody drama as a means of self-glorification is quite beyond my comprehension."

It was not made clear whether the "self-glorification" remark was aimed at Truman or was intended by MacArthur to point up his own position in the controversy.

MacArthur, now chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., was fired by Truman April 11, 1951. Truman then said in a formal statement that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support" to U. S. and United Nations policies in Korea.

Dec. 20 Crash Injuries Take Canton Driver

John Batey Becomes 34th Highway Victim Of County In 1952

County's 1952 Traffic Toll 34 KILLED
This date in 1951—19 Killed
USE CARE! SAVE A LIFE!

A 64-year-old former Wellsville man died Sunday afternoon at 2:15 at City Hospital from injuries received in an auto accident Dec. 20 on Route 39 at the Old Salmeville Rd. in which a Wellsville couple was hurt seriously.

John L. Batey of Canton, a foreman in the signal division of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., was the county's 34th traffic victim this year.

Batey was injured when his car and one driven by Robert Leatherberry crashed at the junction of the two roads. The Canton man was returning from a visit in Wellsville.

Leatherberry, 82, of 249 Highland Ave. is in "good" condition today at City Hospital and his wife, Cora who was a passenger, is in "poor" condition.

Batey, who moved to Canton about seven years ago, had once been a neighbor of the Leatherberrys.

Born at Hudsonville, Ill., Sept. 22, 1883, Batey had been employed by the railroad for 48 years. He had lived in Wellsville some 15 years before being transferred to Canton. He was a veteran of World War I.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Alma Ford Batey; his mother, Mrs. Mary Watson, and a brother, Charles Batey of Sullivan, Ind.

The body was taken to the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville, where friends may call tonight. It will be taken Tuesday morning to his home in Canton, where rites will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. The body will be taken to Sullivan, Ind., for burial Thursday.

Holiday Toll Of 50 Lives Stirs Action

Governor Talks Of Mechanical Curbs; Mingle Up In Arms

By The Associated Press
The governor and the State Highway Patrol today were seeking ways to prevent another series of accidents like the one which claimed 50 lives in Ohio during the four-day Christmas holiday.

An Associated Press survey covering the period from 6 p. m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday showed the state set a new record

714 Are Killed In Four-Day Period

By The Associated Press
Accidents killed 714 Americans during the four-day Christmas week end. Included in that number were 533 who died in traffic mishaps.

Neither figure represented a record, nor did the traffic fatalities for the 102-hour period between 6 p. m. Wednesday and mid-night Sunday (local time) come up to the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 590.

Bloody as the slaughter on the streets and highways was, it did not equal the 535 killed during a similar Christmas week end in 1936. The all-time record for all accidental deaths during a four-day Christmas holiday period, 789, was set last year.

for a similar period with 43 dead in traffic accidents, two in fires and three from miscellaneous causes.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche blamed most of the traffic accidents on excessive speed. He proposed installation of mechanical devices on cars to limit their speed.

Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the patrol, promised "drastic action" to stop what he termed "highway slaughter."

Mingle said the patrol has increased its enforcement facilities some 200 per cent since last winter. He said efforts this year to curb accidents were hampered because 66 of his patrolmen still are stationed at Ohio Penitentiary, scene of a Halloween riot and fire.

Gov. Lausche said he was certain the patrolmen on special duty at the prison would be returned to normal duty by the first of the year.

Ohio's holiday death toll was one of the highest in the nation. Ohio's mark last year was 28, including 12 traffic deaths, 13 fire deaths and four miscellaneous.

The governor, in a statement, said on a proportionate basis Ohio still is below other states in highway deaths. He said:

"Ohio is fifth in population and 34th in geographical area. There is probably no other state in the nation that has as much traffic on the highways as Ohio. On the basis of population, I think it will appear Ohio, in spite of the tragically large number of fatal accidents, will rank below other states on a proportionate comparison."

Sunday's fatalities: Mrs. Mary Cording, 35, of Coal Grove, when her car went out of control north of Oak Hill in Jackson County, throwing her out and pinning her underneath.

James Knight, 23, of Detroit, in a head-on collision with another car on U. S. 25 south of Wapakoneta.

Eniwetok Island Battered By Typhoon

HONOLULU (AP)—The Hawaiian Sea Frontier reports a typhoon hit Eniwetok Island yesterday and caused some damage but "no serious casualties."

There are about 500 U. S. military personnel on the island, a mid-Pacific base for testing atomic and other secret weapons.

A Navy spokesman said a message from the island, received at 10:13 p. m., EST, last night, reported most of the island was under water. A later message said, "No immediate assistance required. Will keep you advised."

Only One Ship Lost In Year

Navy Says Red Fire Struck 21 Vessels

TOKYO (AP)—Communist gunfire hit 21 U. S. Navy ships off Korea in 1952, the Navy said today in a year-end report. Sixteen officers and men were killed and 55 wounded by the Red attacks.

The only ship lost during the year was the tug Sarsi, which hit a mine in August. Two crew members were killed, three are missing and four were wounded.

The Navy said its planes and warships maintained an "absolute blockade of the enemy coastline" while hammering Red targets along the coast and far inland.

In August and September, the Navy launched its first guided missiles fired against North Korean targets. The pilotless planes were escorted to the target by "mother" planes from U. S. aircraft carriers.

The year-end summary noted these two developments in the spring of 1952: The full force of Communist anti-aircraft fire was felt for the first time, and the wide use of helicopters in evacuating wounded Allied soldiers from the front to hospital ships was started.

Listed as destroyed by Navy planes and warships during the year were 13,425 Communist buildings, 943 bridges, 24 factories, 771 gun positions, 1,915 sampans and other small craft, 344 machine-gun and mortar positions, 15 tanks, 35 ammunition dumps and 592 warehouses.

FUTURE SECOND FLOOR

FLOOR PLAN PLAN #1284

WIDESPREAD PREFERENCE for one-story houses is reflected in the latest surveys of the government's Housing and Home Finance Agency. But the added cost of foundations and roof areas have tended to keep one-story houses small. Therefore, the story-and-a-half house, with an expansion attic for extra bedrooms, becomes expedient. This plan 1284 by William G. Chigrotis, architect, 988 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J., fills the need for an expandable house. It covers only 1,050 square feet, without garage and porch, and with basement it contains 22,150 cubic feet—figures which are handy for estimates.

Stalin's Latest Maneuver Appears A Little Too Cute

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The black bomb is like a fraternity pin. Diplomats wear it like a sign which says "I am a diplomat."

The hat with the uprolled edge and the deep crown is in such general use among diplomats that it is practically a tribal headgear.

But at least diplomats have been considered a gentlemanly group whose language, while not always clear, has been extremely restrained even when threatening the most frightening reprisals.

Then the Russians got in on the act and, as usual, caused considerable confusion.

They have come to be regarded in world capitals as the bully boys of diplomacy, the dead end kids of statecraft.

Since they seem to have worked hard at perpetuating this rough-neck image of themselves, it comes as a shock to see their main man, Stalin, switch to a method which seems almost kittenish. It was just a little too cute.

He is either sick of the Korean War and wishes he hadn't let it start, or he isn't. He either wants to come to an understanding with the West, or he doesn't.

In any event, he could have done business, if he wanted to, through normal channels.

Instead, when he wanted to say he'd look favorably upon peace talks with President-elect Eisenhower, he did it by responding to some questions on his attitude toward world peace submitted by the New York Times.

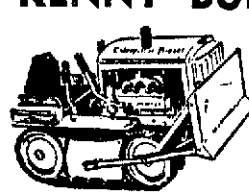

This was such a pussyfooting way to operate, it's no wonder John Foster Dulles, who will be Eisenhower's secretary of state, gave him the answer he did.

Although Stalin is suspected of replying to the questions just to get publicity that he can use for propaganda, Dulles told him if he really wants to do business, to do it through the regular diplomatic channels.

This batted the ball back to Stalin. In the end, all that may be remembered of this episode is that, for a moment anyway, Stalin switched from the usual Communist tactics of tearing the house down to a kitten caper.

In astronomy, the sun is classed as a dwarf star.

Windows Are Barometers

Here's How To Handle Home Moisture Problem

Jack Frost is now getting busy painting ferns and forests on windows across the country. In places where it isn't cold enough for him to finish his artistry, he manages to fox up our windows and spill water in puddles.

All of this is enjoyed by the youngsters and their fingertips. But it worries the older, whose letters show how serious it all can be.

"We've just moved into a house four years old," writes Mrs. G. H. of Tacoma, Wash., "and we find the windows steam up to such an extent the frames are rotting and the plaster is being ruined. Plaster behind the beds and in the closets mildews quite badly. The mop boards will have to be replaced."

R. G. of Detroit writes: "I have an old house and in winter the walls and windows sweat. Would a vapor barrier prevent this?"

J. R. E. of Florence, S. C., and Mrs. D. E. W. of Findlay, O., are among many others wanting to know more about vapor barriers.

"It is impossible to keep paint on my house," Mrs. D. E. W. says.

B. P. H. of Fairfax, Va., has "a large amount of moisture collecting on the rafters and underside of the roof." And Mrs. D. E. B. of Hoquiam, Wash., has windows sweating so badly "it runs the window sills and drapes. It seems to be worse at night or early morning. When we get up the windows are all wet, except the thermopane. Our house is one year old."

To be blunt, it's a good thing these readers can see the moisture on their windows, walls and rafters. If they couldn't see it, much more serious damage might be done before remedial steps could be taken. An engineer, well qualified on this subject, said we ought to regard these windows as built-in barometers—they show us how much humidity we have in our homes and exactly how much ventilation is needed.

Frost or dew on a window pane, this expert says, indicates a relative humidity which should be corrected quickly.

He is Frank E. Parsons, engineer for the National Mineral Wood Association. His organization has been working with several colleges and research bodies to explore causes and corrections of excess moisture in homes.

"Moisture control is important to every home," Parsons says. "It is a simple process—just a matter of watchfulness and easy-to-take precautions."

Vapor barriers never would have been needed if the air in houses could have been kept as dry as the air outdoors. These barriers usually take the form of unbroken sheets of aluminum foil between the plaster and any insulation in the walls. However, a tight coat of paint on the walls, or under wallpaper, also can be an effective vapor barrier.

Both of these measures prevent moisture from condensing on cold surfaces in the walls.

The safest procedure is to keep as much moisture as you can out of the air in your house.

Since storm sash usually will prevent windows from fogging and thereby deprive you of fair warning, it's a good idea to open an inside window to see if the storm pane mists over. If condensation occurs, recommended limits of humidity are being exceeded.

Three steps to prevent excessive humidity are to eliminate, isolate and ventilate.

Elimination means to get rid of room moisture at its source. Use ventilating fans in kitchens, laundries and baths.

Isolation means confining moisture to prevent its circulation through the house.

Ventilation, perhaps the most basic, means to let the moist air escape out of doors and be replaced by drier fresh air. This doesn't take long and your heat loss will be negligible.

Family Gets Things Ready For Rugged 23,000-Mile Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—On Jan. 1, the Walter J. Lamonts and their two children are about ready for their high adventure.

They hope to be the first family to drive the entire distance of the Pan-American Highway, circling South America in a rugged 23,000-mile trip which they expect will take from 18 months to two years to accomplish.

"We've planned a day-by-day itinerary for 18 months," explained pretty blonde Doria Lamont airily and serenely.

"We are going to live for short periods with people in the towns and villages along the way. We'll start off with about $1,000, but we're going to live off the land—hunting and fishing. My husband is an engineer, and he knows about things like that. Our truck is a work vehicle and we can use it to help people who need it along the route."

Walter Lamont sold his Greenwich Village moving company, and the family has acquired a 1½-ton truck with a special steel body which resembles a king-size station wagon. It is equipped with a winch on the front, for use in pulling itself out of trouble and assisting others.

"The highway is the highest and wettest road in the world," said Doria.

Among the equipment going on the trip is a Geiger counter, extra water tanks, altimeter, rifles, cameras.

"We're taking clothing for climates from Arctic to tropic," she said. "We're taking medicine for everything from snakebite to frostbite. We've read everything we can lay hands on about the countries we're going through. I understand there's a scorpion whose bite is fatal to children, but not to adults."

The two Lamont children—Russell, 6, and John, 5—will start off wearing blue jeans and T-shirts.

"When they wear out, we'll replace them with whatever the natives wear," Doria said. "I'll have to be their schoolteacher. I suppose, although I thought perhaps we'd send them to local schools whenever it was possible. Some places we're going to stay as long as a couple of months."

Saddened Denmark Mourns Queen Mother

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Denmark's saddened populace went into a week of official mourning today over the death of Queen Mother Alexandrine, who reigned as queen during two world wars.

The dowager Queen died yesterday, 12 days after an operation and five days after her 73rd birthday.

The body of the German-born Queen today lay in state in the famed Knights Hall at Amalienborg Castle, her former residence, where her son, King Frederik IX, now lives with his royal family.

A simple state funeral will take place next Sunday for the woman who reigned from 1912 until her husband, King Christian, died in 1947.

'Bundles For Britain' Founder Will Marry

LONDON (AP)—The New York socialite who founded the wartime "Bundles for Britain" campaign—Mrs. Natalie Wales Paine—today announced her engagement to a Scottish peer and member of Parliament.

The attractive 43-year-old widow said she will be married to Lord Malcolm Douglas - Hamilton next month. She met him when he was in America on a lecture tour four years ago.

Lost Wallet Returns With An Extra $2

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Chris Olesen got his wallet back—$2 fatter than when he lost it three years ago.

The finder, in an unsigned note mailed with the wallet, explained he had misplaced it in some work clothes and apologized for the delay.

In place of the $18 Olesen had lost was a $20 bill.

Here's Key To Wall Studs

Bouncing Ball Will Find Desired Spot

Whenever there is a heavy mirror to hang or a large picture frame to be fastened to the wall, it is essential that the studs behind the plaster be located.

Most homeowners have had the experience of thumping the wall with a hammer or driving a thin nail through the plaster in an effort to find a solid anchorage for the hangers. In many cases this "sounding" process has been a failure because it is pure guesswork. In other cases the householder has thought that he had the right spot, only to have the hanger or nail tear out of the plaster and let the mirror or frame come crashing to the floor.

Now there is an absolutely positive way of finding the studs. It is another clever Yankee invention known as a Dowser Ball. This gadget consists of a plastic tube containing two steel balls, one smaller than the other.

One end of the tube has a triangular flange on which there is a small knob. This flange is set firmly against the wall and held there by pressing the other end of the tube with the thumb of your left hand. With the ball of your right hand you give the wall alongside the tube a firm thump.

If the tube is directly over a stud, the two balls remain closely together. If there is not a stud behind the tube, the balls jump apart.

With this device you can sound over an entire wall and locate every stud or wall beam behind the plaster.

There is no guesswork about this device, since it is based on the solid principle that there is a certain amount of bounce or resiliency in the walls of any frame house except where the studs are located.

This invention has proved a boon to building inspectors and others whose business it is to examine houses.

Senator Would Revoke O'Dwyer's Passport

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) says he will ask the Eisenhower administration to take away the passport of William O'Dwyer, former New York mayor, as a means of prodding O'Dwyer to return to the United States.

O'Dwyer, recently resigned U. S. ambassador to Mexico, has given no indication of plans to leave that country. He has been under fire of the New York Crime Commission and the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Watkins conceded in an interview yesterday that revoking O'Dwyer's passport in itself might not force O'Dwyer's return, but he said, "It is a first step, and we should take it."

A U. S. consular official in Mexico City said that, if O'Dwyer's passport were canceled, he could stay indefinitely in Mexico as long as the Mexican government granted its approval.

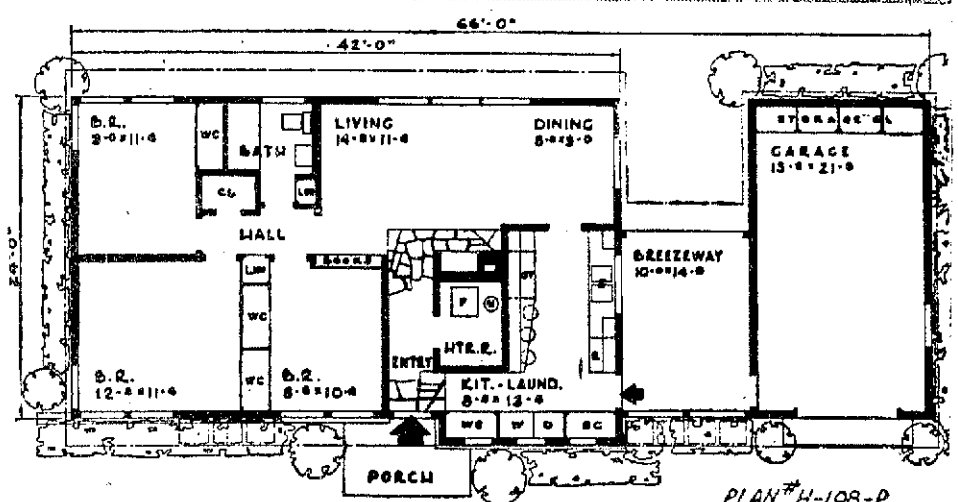

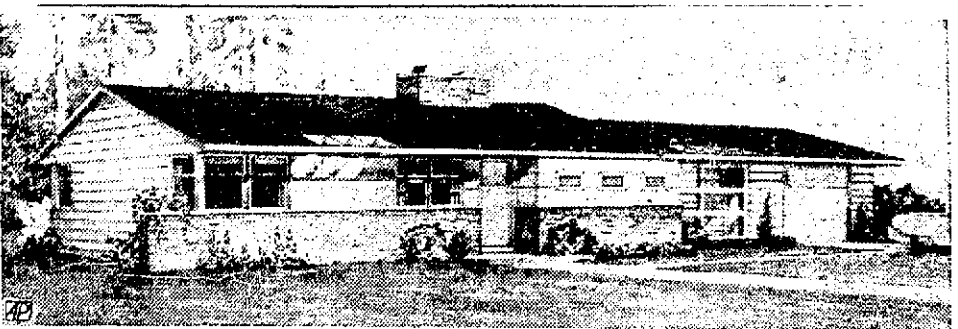

Indictment Upheld On Illegal Entering

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Federal Appeals Court today upheld the indictment of a U. S. citizen and a Mexican on charges of helping Nationalist China's former purchasing agent, Lt. Gen. Pang Tsu Mow, enter this country illegally.

Mow is being held for extradition on charges by the Formosa government of making away with $52 million dollars of his country's money. There has been no decision on the Chinese request that he be returned to Formosa for trial.

Shortly after Mow's arrest last August, Oliver M. Kissick of Berkeley, Calif., and Pedro Casar Acha of Mexico City were charged with helping him enter the country illegally. Judge Antonio Fernandez Vera ordered them held for trial and they appealed the order. The Appeals Court today upheld the judge's order but no date was set yet for the trial.

The Suez Canal was first opened in 1869.

SMARTLY CONTEMPORARY in style, this house with an expansive living-dining room on the rear garden side requires no basement. It has a large utility room behind the living room fireplace and extra storage closets in the garage. Wide wardrobe closets with sliding doors are planned for each of the three bedrooms. The entrance hall and fireplace hearth are paved in random variegated slate. This is Plan H-198-P by the Homograft Co., 11711 East Eight Mile Road, East Detroit, Mich. It covers 1037 square feet without breezeway and garage.

Weather Strip Helps Garage

Attached Structure May Chill House

One of the nice things about an attached garage is the fact that you can get into and out of your car without being exposed to the bad weather.

Another benefit is that the car is protected from the elements, the paint is saved and the car is easy to start. All of this means a lot to the average homeowner.

While the attached garage is such a convenience, it is usually not heated and as a result it does have a chilling effect on the house to which it is attached.

The cause of this is simply that the door or doors are a loose fit in the wall and allow any heat absorbed from the house to escape into the outdoors.

If you look carefully, you will see that the main points at which there is a large gap between door and garage wall or floor is at the bottom and top of the door.

It is through these spots that heat escapes and cold enters. A recent experiment shows that the use of a round rubber weather stripping reduces the heat loss by 75 per cent.

This type of weather strip consists of a round rubber tube having a wire-reinforced flange and selling for about eight or nine cents a foot.

The strip is installed by nailing the flange securely against the bottom edge of the door and the top edge of the door frame. When the door is closed down the rubber tube is compressed, making a very tight seal along the floor line. At the same time the upper edge of the door compresses the rubber strip at the top.

If the door is too loose a fit along the sides, the strip also can be installed at those joints. Aside from making a heat-saver, this strip also prevents rain and snow from driving in through the door.

Tax Rate Down

HAMILTON, O. (AP)—Property owners in Hamilton received good news over the weekend from auditor R. H. Smith. The tentative tax rate payable in 1953 has been set at $22.69 for each $1,000 valuation, 32 cents less than last year.

Trafalgar Fountain Becomes Bubble Bath

LONDON (AP)—Trafalgar Square's famous fountain at the foot of Nelson's Column became a frothy bubble bath yesterday—to the delight of many but to the consternation of public officials.

An unknown practical joker poured detergent into strategic spots around the pool. Water from the fountainheads churned it into snowy lather. Eventually, it washed away.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

New Comedian, Old Continental

Red Buttons, the latest enthusiasm of the Columbia Broadcasting System, is a demure, likable-type comedian who ought to survive the wear and tear of television as well as anyone around. He is a round faced, button-nosed, curly-haired young man of great charm. In short, he's the affable or good-natured school of comic as opposed to the perpetually irritable or Milton Berle type. On the whole, they're more restful and may conceivably last longer. The Red Buttons Show, which has just been moved to a new time (CBS-TV 9 p. m., Saturdays) like the Red Skelton show is pretty much a one-man operation. Like Skelton, Buttons opens with a monologue in front of the curtain. His material in the main is fresh, topical, satiric stuff of the sort you don't hear a great deal of—gags about movies, modern medicine, the newspapers, Gen. Eisenhower.

FROM THERE Buttons moves into a sketch and so far the sketches have all been pretty funny. I've seen him as a Boy Scout, as a delivery boy mistaken for a gangster killer, as a German submarine commander who discovers that the war has been over for two years and that he can come up now, and as a boy who pokes his head through a hole and has baseballs thrown at him at a carnival.

In all of these, he has been both amusing and endearing, reminding me a little of Harry Langdon and occasionally of Lou Costello.

As a bridge between his first sketch and his later domestic sketch, Buttons will sing a silly little song whose title, as near as I can gather, is "Ho Ho, Hoo Hoo."

In this bit, which is kind of hard to describe, he jiggles around on one foot, claps one hand over his ear, shouts "Hoo hoo" and tells perfectly terrible jokes. It's not as bad as it sounds, but it isn't, on the other hand, my favorite business on television, either.

The show closes with a domestic sketch—the Buttons at home—which is intended, I gather, to be both funny and touching, and frequently is.

All things considered, Buttons is a welcome new personality on television.

THE CONTINENTAL is back, girls. Take to the hills. The first time we were privileged to be wooed by this menace from Hollywood—Renzo Cezano is his real name—he operated all by himself. He made eyes at the camera, plied it with champagne and mooded endearments at it. This provoked such a thunder of laughter that the show disappeared in short order.

His latest pitch, which is on WJZ-TV 11 a. m. Tuesday and 11:30 Friday, is somewhat different. Again we get the soft piano music, the champagne, the accent which I can only describe as poof-terribly poof.

But the Continental is no longer alone. Now he invites in a couple on their first date and moos at them interminably about how they met and what their plans are and one thing and another.

Wealthy Rancher 'Couldn't Face It'

Pleading Friends Fail To Stop Suicide Air Dive

SWEETWATER, Tex. — "I just can't face it," a wealthy West Texas rancher radioed after a three-hour air-to-ground argument, then he plunged his bright yellow plane into a gravel pit near here. The suicide dive yesterday ended frantic, futile pleadings by friends and airport officials with Ollie Williams Cox, 23, owner of the 2,560-acre Heart Herford Ranch, 10 miles south of here.

Civil Aeronautics Administration experts began an investigation of the crash today.

Why Cox carried out his threat to fly around until he ran out of gas and then crash remained a mystery. Threats, jokes and pleadings had no effect as he circled in the brilliant West Texas sky.

"Everything is all messed up," Cox said over and over again.

He joked, broke into tears once, but refused to land the small five-passenger craft. Once he asked the airport to check on any airliners in the vicinity.

"I don't want anybody else to get hurt," he said.

A tape recording was made of the two-way radio conversation but Cox's friends and officials refused

'Don't Always Blame Mom,' Psychologist Declares

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A woman psychologist today lambasted the idea that "mom is to blame" for all of a child's troubles and ills.

Psychologists write a lot about childhood psychology, but practically nothing about the psychology of parents, she said.

Parenthood is just a developmental stage "between childhood and old age," declared Dr. Jane Loevinger of Washington University, St. Louis, in an address to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Coming to the defense of sometimes over-criticized mothers, Dr. Loevinger cited five statements buttressing her argument that there's too much emphasis on a mother-blaming complex.

1. "Parenthood has never been recognized officially as a branch of psychology, nor as a normal developmental stage."

2. "Child psychology is one of the most intensively cultivated branches of psychology, the 'psychology of parents' is virtually nonexistent." She quoted one psycholanalyst who says that "babes control and bring up their families as much as they are controlled by them. In fact, we may say that the family brings up a baby by being brought up by him."

3. "Research on parents has been concerned almost exclusively with their goodness as parents, as if to say that parents are of interest only for the sake of the child."

4. "In the study of mothers, there has been extraordinary preoccupation with the concept of 'maternal rejection'."

But, she added, "almost every child believes, at some time or other, that what is wrong is that mommy doesn't love me enough."

5. "Literature written by psychologists for parents emphasizes 'the rights of infants,' the obligation of mothers to satisfy their children's needs" but without telling the difference between the child's needs and rights.

Dr. Loevinger said there ought to be a study of the potentialities for evil of the "how-to-be-a-perfect-parent" books, lectures and articles.

Too often, she said, "each parent chooses that advice on how to raise children that is least appropriate for him."

She said much of the advice to parents from psychologists may have an opposite effect from that intended, that many mothers who read books and articles on child-rearing "are those who are already overburdened with conscience" about it and only draw trouble.

Talk of the bad effects of maternal rejection may well result only in making parents afraid to face their temporary and innocent moods of hostility toward their children, moods that are normal in all parents at times, she said.

Auto Injuries Fatal

PORTSMOUTH, O.—Charles P. Elliott, 21, of Vanceburg, Ky., a paratrooper home on Christmas furlough, died in Mercy Hospital here Sunday of injuries suffered in an auto accident near Vanceburg.

ON HOLIDAY VISIT. England's dowager Queen Mary, 85, arrives at Sandringham Castle, England, to spend the New Year with her granddaughter, Queen Elizabeth II and other members of the royal family. The name "sugar" is applied to more than 100 substances.

Still 'No Substantial Change'

Surgeons Are Heartened By Twins' Battle For Life

CHICAGO, Mo.—The official word on the Brodie Siamese twins today was still "no substantial change" but surgeons were heartened by their tenacious grip on life.

A spokesman for the Illinois Neurosurgical Hospital emphasized that the condition of both Rodney and Roger, separated from their head-to-head connection 12 days ago, is critical.

Roger, the twin who lost his connection with their common brain drainage blood vessel—the sagittal sinus—in the 12-hour, 40-minute operation Dec. 17, is still in a coma. Rodney who has the benefit of the large vein and some brain covering membrane sacrificed by Roger, is alert and apparently near normal.

Both twins are receiving adequate nourishment.

The great danger is possibility of infection which could prove fatal within a matter of minutes.

Roger, with virtually no dura mater—the membrane which encases the brain—has a substitute membrane of a plastic substance, polyethylene. This is covered by a layer of aluminum foil. Over this is a bandage.

Rodney, who has about two-thirds of the top of his brain covered with natural dura mater, has substantially the same head covering as his brother.

Rodney has been taken off of oxygen. Roger still gets supplemental oxygen.

In feeding, the care of the twins varies greatly. Rodney gets a normal diet for a 15-month-old baby—strained foods, orange juice and milk. He doesn't like milk. He drinks his orange juice eagerly.

Rodney, because of his coma which has been unremitting since the operation, is fed through a tube passed through one nostril and down his esophagus to his stomach.

Through this tube he receives about one ounce of a formula every 30 minutes. His diet contains about one-fifth water mixed with a combination of milk, a high protein powder and egg.

There can be no short pull to security for the youngsters. They will be considered borderline risks until they have withstood the further surgery which awaits them—to give them skull caps.

In the case of Roger, there is a double hurdle. It may be a long time before he regains consciousness. Doctors are only now beginning to be hopeful about his chances of recovering.

Liverpool Defeats Mansfield, 70-63, To Register 4th Victory

Oliver Paces Potters With 21 Counters

Fighting off a late Mansfield rally, the East Liverpool basketballers clipped the Tygers' tail, 70-63, Saturday night on the losers' court to ring up their fourth triumph in five starts.

It was a reversal of form for the Potters after their shoddy showing of Friday although they came out on the long end of the count against Ashtabula.

Eddie Oliver, who last winter came off the bench to spark many rallies, put the big punch in the Potters' attack Saturday night.

The rugged guard pumped in nine goals and three of six chances from the foul stripe for 21 points to pace the Blue and White.

Keith Goodman with 14 markers and Art Adkins and Bob McCoy with 13 points each gave the Potters better balance than in any game this season.

It was Oliver's eight points on four baskets that paced Liverpool to a narrow 70-63 edge in a sizzling first period. However, in the second quarter the Potters poured in 22 counters to leave the Tygers behind by nine points at intermission, 42-33.

Jim Schafer, push shot artist who grabbed scoring honors with 24 points on eight goals and eight of 10 tries from the charity line, led a Mansfield rally that chewed off a point in the third and found the Potters on the long end of a 58-50 score as the period ended.

Liverpool, who lost Dick Jordan in the second quarter on fouls, also lost the remainder of their height in the fourth quarter when big Bob Moore was banished on personals.

Already the Tygers have begun to trim the margin, and when Moore went out they trailed by only three points, 50-58.

McCoy made it 61 for the Potters but Schafer also found the range, and then made a foul to cut Liverpool's edge to 61-58.

Oliver cashed in at the foul line and then dropped in a basket to pull the Potters away. Eddie came right back and fired in two quick fielders to run the score to 68-59, a safe edge for the Blue and White.

Goodman's free throw made it 69-61 with only 30 seconds left, and Oliver sank a charity toss to complete Liverpool's scoring.

Phil Tinkley, who collected 11 markers for the losers, dropped in the last field goal of the game.

George Swank, 6-5 center, contributed 13 points toward the losers' cause.

Combating the rangy Tygers for control of the boards, Adkins and Moore were outstanding.

The Potters showed a marked improvement over Friday night's exhibition, and it also was evident at the foul line where they cashed in 20 times on 27 chances.

USC's Olympic Champ Breaks Shot Put Mark

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Olympic champion Parry O'Brien of Southern California broke a 17-year-old Sugar Bowl record with his shot put heave of 56 feet 4 1/4 inches.

O'Brien, one of four American Olympic winners taking part in the Sugar Bowl track meet yesterday, wasn't pressed by his only competitor, Darrow Hooper of Texas A & M.

Hooper, who beat O'Brien in the Olympic tryouts and was runnerup at Helsinki, was off form and his tries were a yard short.

The mark erased by O'Brien was 54 1/4 inches set in 1935 by Jack Torrance of Louisiana State.

Lions Topple Browns, 17-7, To Win NFL Crown

Walker's TD Dash, Two Goal Stands Top Browns

By BUD SPRUNGER
CLEVELAND (AP)—Doak Walker's first touchdown run this season and two stone-ribbed goal line stands trimmed the Cleveland Browns Sunday and earned the 1952 pro football title for Detroit's Lions.

Walker, a speedy and shifty Texan, went 67 yards down the left sideline for the tally clinching the Lions' 17-7 victory.

"After I got past the line of scrimmage I felt I had a chance to go all the way. They really opened up a big hole, didn't they?" said Walker.

The halfback roared left and cut back between Cleveland right end George Young and tackle Bob Gain. Then he headed left again for the chalk line and kept going.

The gallop put the Lions ahead, 14-0, and the two goal stands held the advantage.

Coach Buddy Parker, carried from the field on the shoulders of his team, declared: "Our defense

Snare First Grid Title In 17 Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detroit's Lions won their first National Football League crown in 17 years in a game that gave the fans who say pro football these days is all forward passing.

In slamming the door on the Cleveland Browns seventh straight championship try yesterday, 17-7, Detroit netted only 59 of its 258-yard total gain on aerials.

It was a curious struggle on frozen ground for the 50,934 fans who shivered in Lakefront Stadium and millions who watched television in warm homes.

First, the key run was a 67-yard touchdown sprint by halfback Doak Walker, who hadn't hit pay dirt all year. He missed half the Lions' games to rest a pulled leg muscle and didn't play when Cleveland lost, 17-6, in Detroit eight weeks ago.

Second, the Browns controlled the ball nearly two-thirds of the time, but the Lions held a comfortable point lead for all but a few minutes. Walker's run, midway in the third period, put Detroit ahead 14-0.

The Browns smashed back for their only touchdown four minutes later, with fullback Harry Jagade plunging 7 to cap a 68-yard drive. Just 12 more minutes and the Browns' hopes died on a 36-yard field goal by Lion fullback Pat Harder. Halfback Ken Carpenter fumbled a Detroit punt to set up this three-point lead.

The Lions played it cautiously in the last half, while the Browns piled up a big edge in statistics, which don't pay off.

Jagade, whose 104 yards rushing was tops for the day, took the second-half kickoff back 18 then broke away for 19 and 29-yard jaunts in a drive to the Lions' 25. Jim David spiked this threat by intercepting a pass that bounded off Carpenter's fingers on Detroit's 12.

In the final period big Marion Motley made the Browns' biggest ground gain by breaking away for 42 yards on a pitchout from Otto Graham. He went out of bounds on the 5 but lost 5 trying end the next play. Thurman McGraw smeared quarterback Graham for an 11-yard loss, while Otto hunted a receiver, then Dick Flanagan batted down a toss to give the Lions the ball on their 21.

Detroit Coach Buddy Parker said after the game: "Our defense won it for us."

The Lions' offense ran not at all true to form. Halfback Bob Hoernschemeyer, Detroit's biggest ground-gainer all season, made the least yardage of the offensive backs. End Cloyce Box, who led the league in touchdown passes, caught only one forward. Bobby Layne, third among NFL passers in yardage and touchdown tosses, threw only nine and completed seven.

Graham, the league's best in completions and pass yardage, connected on 20, but nearly all his

Chester Alumni Beat Newell Grads, 77-74

Chester's Alumni cagers rallied in the fourth quarter Saturday night to defeat ex-stars of Newell High, 77-74, in a Booster's Club benefit game at the Chester gym.

Jerry Neff, Westminster College star, and Jack Huff sparked the rally in the last period with seven points each as Chester erased a 53-51 ewell lead.

The one-time stars of Newell High had held leads of 17-12 and throws were short ones, and his net yardage was less than half the 384 gained by the Browns' offense. He sorely missed end Mac Speedie, the league's leading receiver, and halfback Dub Jones, one of his favorite long-range targets.

Speedie sat it all out on the bench, while Jones didn't even put on a uniform. Both writhed knees against the New York Giants two weeks ago.

Lou Groza of the Browns, playing with badly bruised ribs, missed first-half field goal tries of 28, 47 and 37 yards.

A wobbly 22-yard punt by Horace Gillon gave Detroit its first scoring break. The ball went out at midfield, and Layne sparked the touchdown drive with a ground gain of 13 yards and passes to Box and Bill Swacki for first downs and 24 more yards. Layne shouldered through the middle from the two to score standing up at 1:40 of the second quarter.

Senior Bowl Players Plunge Into Drills

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Next Saturday's Senior Bowl players, some a bit battered from week-end bowl engagements, today began intensive workouts for the annual North-South classic.

Players began flying in Sunday from three other all-star games in which they competed — North-South at Miami; Blue - Gray at Montgomery; and East - West at San Francisco.

North coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns arrived this morning. His Cleveland team lost the pro championship game to the Detroit Lions Sunday.

Coach Steve Owen of the New York Giants will skipper the South squad.

Top-Ranked LaSalle Bows

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP)—This is tournament week in college basketball and it behooves the mighty to look to their laurels.

Three tournaments opened over the weekend and in one of them—the Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden — No. 1 ranked LaSalle of Philadelphia bowed out in the first round.

Five more tournaments got underway today with five of the nation's first 10 bidding for top honors. Another member of the select group — fifth - ranked Kansas State — is in the semi-final bracket of the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City.

North Carolina State, No. 6 nationally, is the host club in the Dixie Tournament at Raleigh, N. C., which includes such teams as unbeaten Holy Cross, No. 4, Brigham Young of the Skyline Conference, and Princeton and Penn of the Ivy League.

Louisiana State, No. 8, plays in the Sugar Bowl tourney where undefeated St. Bonaventure is the choice over the Southeastern Conference five, Villanova and St. Louis.

The once - beaten Oklahoma Aggies and Western Kentucky, Nos. 9 and 10, respectively, show their brand of ball in the tournament at Oklahoma City along with Tulsa, winner of seven straight; Wyoming; Oklahoma City, the defending champion, also with a perfect record; Bowling Green, Idaho and Penn State.

Here's the status of the major tournaments which started over the weekend:

Madison Square Garden — DePaul, 63-61 conqueror of LaSalle, vs unbeaten Manhattan and Utah State vs Miami of Ohio in semi-final round. Manhattan trounced Cincinnati, 75-60; Utah State beat NYU, 67-61, and Miami (Ohio) edged St. Johns, 68-65.

Big Seven — Yale, victor by a 56-54 margin over Colorado, vs Kansas State and Kansas vs Missouri in semi - final round. State moved into the semi - final bracket by walling off Oklahoma, 83-69. Kansas and Missouri reached the same stage of the tourney on Friday night.

Southwest Conference — Rice, which eliminated defending champion Texas Christian 68-49, vs Baylor and Arkansas, 68-51 conqueror of Arizona, vs Southern Methodist. Baylor knocked over Texas, 57-48, and SMU whipped Texas Aggies, 57-35.

The Illini, bouncing back from a 77-73 loss to Minnesota to wallop Ohio State 86-62 Saturday, have only an inter-sectional date with St. Mary's of California this week. It's scheduled at Champaign Tuesday night.

A shifting in the second division is due tonight when Wisconsin (1-1) invades Iowa (1-2) and Northwestern (0-1) goes to Ohio State (0-1).

The week's main attraction comes Tuesday with Michigan State facing Minnesota at Minneapolis. Each team has played and won one Big Ten game. Indiana's hustling Hoosiers will seek their third straight league triumph at Michigan (1-3) Saturday while Ohio State is at Michigan State, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Purdue (1-1) at Wisconsin.

Non - league engagements for Big Ten outfits include Butler at Michigan tonight, Notre Dame at Northwestern, and Minnesota at Marquette Wednesday.

The surface of Lake Superior is about 602 feet above sea level.

Australian Tennis Stars Rip U.S. Hopes In Davis Cup Play

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Australia's two tennis tigers—Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor—yanked the rug from under America's Davis Cup team in a hurry today.

They'll play out the final three matches only because all the tickets have been sold and the rules demand it.

But after today's one-sided exhibition about the only thing left for Uncle Sam's lads is a faint glimmer of hope.

First Sedgman delivered one of the heaviest salvos ever seen in cup play as he opened the series with a crushing 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 victory over American Captain Vic Seixas of Philadelphia.

Then McGregor all but topped this display by wearing down young Tony Trabert under a searing sun and finally trouncing him by scores of 11-9, 6-4, 6-1.

The first set between McGregor and Trabert deserves to rank as a classic duel between two great serves. But once Trabert wavered and lost his delivery in the final game, it was all over. From there on McGregor was unbeatable.

The great crowd of well over 15,000 gave Trabert and Seixas a sincere ovation when they walked from the court.

Trabert was so completely frazzled that just before he reached the araway leading to the dressing room he was seen to waver in his stride and an alert ambulance crewman grabbed him and guided him the rest of the way.

The long struggle in heat over 90 degrees was a tough experience for the Cincinnati youngster, who was playing his first really hard competitive match in approximately a year.

The only argument heard as the huge throng broke up was whether Sedgman or McGregor played greater tennis in what probably will be their swan song to Davis cup singles.

After today's great display it only could be assumed they would team up to smack down Seixas and Trabert in tomorrow's doubles. In that event, the Australians could be expected to permit the other two members of their squad—Mervyn Rose and Lewis Hoad—to close out the series in the concluding singles Wednesday.

It is understood that both Sedgman and McGregor will announce they are turning pro after the Davis Cup banquet Thursday night.

Tiger Captain Capable

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Homer Smith, captain-elect and fullback on the Princeton football team, isn't big but is exceptionally fast and runs very hard. He is five feet 10 and weighs 187 pounds. On the track team Smith runs the low hurdles and does the broad jump. He is an economic major and ranks third in his class.

Dry Forces Won Most Of Vote Battles

Survey Shows Wets Lost All But Fourth Of Contests In Ohio

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Dry forces won in three-fourths of the communities that voted in the Nov. 4 election on the question of allowing the sale of beer and other intoxicants.

Tabulations by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and the Ohio Brewers Association showed today that in 58 wet-dry contests, the dries won 43 and the wets 15.

The dries won 25 local option contests and the wets seven. On the question of 32 beer sales, the dries won 16 tests and the wets eight. The dries also won the only two contests over the sale of liquor by the glass.

All 15 wet victories were in communities already permitting the sale of intoxicants.

Eight previously wet areas went dry putting out of business 15 operators holding 30 beer and liquor permits.

Forty-nine operators retained 84 permits despite dry victories in their areas. That was because the questions voted on did not affect their particular permits.

The Village of Windham in Portage County was an example. Residents voted on the question of allowing the sale of high power beer. The majority voted "no" but the decision did not affect the lone 32 beer permit holder there.

Wet-dry petitions were filed in 37 counties but elections were held in only 29 counties. Eight counties rejected all petitions because they were faulty.

Wet interests filed 14 of the 56 beer and local option petitions the association reported. The outcome shows how difficult it is to make a community wet, after it has once voted dry," the report said.

Temperance forces estimate between 70 and 75 per cent of the state is dry. Wet areas are concentrated in metropolitan and more populous centers with intoxicants banned in most rural territory.

The only areas voting separately on sale of liquor by the glass were Somerville in Butler County and Chester Twp in Geauga County. Dries won both contests.

Enterprise Hero Says He Rejects Fortune In Offers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heroic Capt Kurt Carlson of the ill-fated Flying Enterprise reports he has rejected more than two million dollars in offers to capitalize on his experience.

"But I'm a ship captain," he said as he arrived last night on the Flying Enterprise II. "That's all I can do. I've written more than 10,000 thank you notes," rejecting offers.

Carlson was greeted by his wife and two daughters who flew from their Woodridge N. J. home and will accompany him to New York via the Panama Canal. He's completing a world tour on his new ship.

The old Enterprise which he manned alone for days, sank off the coast of England Jan. 10 despite courageous efforts to save her.

Bidault Tries Again In New French Crisis

PARIS (AP)—Veteran politician Georges Bidault today took a stab at trying to line up enough support in France's volatile Assembly to permit him to form a Cabinet and end the week-long government crisis.

Bidault twice premier since the end of World War II, was asked by President Vincent Auriol Sunday to try once again after Jacques Soustelle failed to get enough support for his right-wing French rilly party headed by Gen. Charles DeGaulle.

Whether Bidault would have any more success than Soustelle was a question although he told Auriol today—after sounding out some party leaders—that he was willing to accept the designation as premier and try to round up majority support for a coalition.

Mexican Policemen Held For Shakedowns

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The captain of Mexico City's police riot squad has been arrested on charges of illegally collecting money from squad members.

Gen. Miguel Molinar chief of police swore out the warrants against the three police officials. He said they charged a fine of 1 peso (115 cents U. S.) to each squad member late for a roll call. He also said Capt. Ambrosio Perez Cruz collected the salary of 20 imaginary policemen who existed only on the department payroll.

Mrs. Eisenhower Improves From Cold

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in bed with a cold during the week end but her doctor says she should be up and around today.

Socialites Gather In Nassau For Oakes Wedding

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Socialites from all parts of the world gathered in Nassau today for the wedding of Miss Nancy Oakes, eldest daughter of the late Sir Harry and Lady Eunice Oakes, to Baron Ernst Lyssard von Hoyningen Huene.

The wedding will take place at 7 p. m. EST, in the Anglican Church of St. Mary the Virgin. The ceremony will be performed by the Lord Bishop of Nassau, the Rt. Rev. Spench Burton, assisted by the Rev. Canon Holmes.

Miss Oakes will wear a beige evening dress and jacket and a head covering of old Irish lace. Her mother of honor and only attendant will be Countess de Premo-Real.

Members of the immediate families will include Baron Ture von Hoyningen Huene, brother of the bridegroom and best man.

The bridegroom is the second son of Hermann Freiherr von Hoyningen Huene and was born in Wendisch Mecklenburg. He came to the United States to complete his education at Occidental College, Los Angeles, and is studying languages and economics in Mexico City, where the couple met last March.

Nancy previously was married to Alfred de Marigny. The New York Supreme Court annulled that union in 1950.

De Marigny was accused in 1943 of slaying Sir Harry Oakes in his Nassau home. Nancy stood by her husband who was acquitted.

Fulbright Doubts Success From Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) says he doubts anything useful would come of a Churchill-Stalin-Eisenhower meeting right now because Russia's aim is to bleed and divide the West.

But we must not take the attitude that there is no hope and refuse to meet with them," Fulbright said. The possibility of a personal conference between the Russian premier and the U. S. president-elect was raised in a Stalin communication to the New York Times Christmas Eve.

Fulbright, a high-ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, recently returned from a tour in Europe. He also told television interviewers yesterday.

1 Voice of America broadcasts should be kept going to the Iron Curtain countries because that is the only means of directly reaching Communist peoples but U. S. propaganda efforts elsewhere should be cut back or changed.

2 Differences between Northern and Southern Democrats are not as serious as many people believe and can be ironed out in the near future.

Truman Honored By Civil Rights Group

CLEVELAND (AP)—A bronze plaque honoring President Truman was presented Sunday by the American Council on Human Rights.

It was accepted on behalf of the president by Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman. The award praised Mr. Truman for his forthright contribution to human rights and equality for all mankind.

The council is composed of six Negro collegiate fraternities and sororities.

Net Income Jumps For B. & O. Railroad

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad today reported a net income of nearly 24 million dollars for the first 11 months of the year.

The road said the net of $23,999,925 was $6,284,145 higher than for a similar period a year ago and attributed the increase mainly to reduced operating expenses.

West Virginia Toll Mounts

Violent Deaths Take 11 Over Holiday

At least 11 persons suffered violent deaths in West Virginia over the Christmas holiday week end, 10 of them in traffic accidents.

The lone exception was 5-year-old Beulah Marie Elkins of Berne, Lincoln County, who died yesterday of third-degree burns she received Saturday when her clothes caught on fire as she stood before an open fire place at her home.

The traffic deaths, tabulated between 6 p. m. Christmas Eve and midnight last night, boosted the state's traffic toll for 1952 to 395 and December's toll to 31.

The final 1952 fatality list will exceed that of 1951 when 385 lives were claimed by highway mishaps in West Virginia. However, it will probably fall short of the worst year on record in the state—1936 with 503 fatalities. There were 485 in 1937 and 459 in 1941.

The 1948 toll was 406 and the 1947 count was 388.

The latest traffic deaths reported in West Virginia included:

Mary Ellen Pierce, 10, of Ceredo who was fatally injured in a car wreck near Huntington Friday and died there yesterday.

Parsons E. Arnold, 63-year-old retired farmer of Romney, who was struck and fatally injured by an automobile yesterday while crossing State Rt. 28 near Romney.

Herbert Glaze of Green Spring, W. Va., a soldier scheduled to embark for Korea after spending Christmas at home, who was killed yesterday when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge abutment near Springfield in Hampshire County.

Claude A. Tart, 26, of York, S. C. killed at Bluefield when his car struck a tree after he lost control of the vehicle on a steep hill.

Business Shows Slight Drop In Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Business fell off in Cleveland during 1952, but not much, the Federal Reserve Bank said today.

The bank's research department said it would be easy to blame last summer's steel strike "except for the fact that very similar results were obtained in a year-to-year comparison made at the end of June, before the effects of the strike had spread much."

Cuyahoga County issued permits for buildings worth $205 million, off 2 per cent from 1951 but only 5 per cent less than the record year of 1950.

Electric power production, however, reached a record 6 billion kilowatt hours, up from 1951 by 9 per cent a week.

Steel production in the Cleveland-Lorain district totaled 4,509,000 tons, about 6 per cent less than 1951.

Unemployment claims averaged 7,500 a week, less than last year's average.

About 56,000 new passenger cars were sold in the county, 17 per cent fewer than 1951.

Department store sales were off an estimated 2 per cent.

'Scared Me To Death,' Driver Says Of Bazooka

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sgt. Joseph W. Koerber was driving along in the stream of Sunday traffic when his sharp eye spied an object in the street.

He jammed on the brakes skidded for 25 feet and managed to miss a bazooka shell by a hair.

Koerber who is in the 110th Field Artillery of the Maryland National Guard called police.

A policeman gingerly carried the shell the kind used in tank warfare, to a grass plot beside the road. It was three hours before a bomb disposal expert arrived. Nothing to worry about, he said. The shell was empty.

"It scared me to death," Koerber admitted.

Police haven't figured out how the missile got there.

Boxing's 'Rookie Of Year' May Be Decided Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—A decision on boxing's "rookie of the year" award must await tonight's main go debut of Floyd Patterson, Olympic middleweight champion.

Patterson, 19-year-old Golden Glove grad, steps into the star bout category in his fourth pro start when he meets Lulu Sabotin of Warren, O., at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway in a televised fight (Dumont) at 10 p. m. (EST).

The other TV network bouts of the week are:

Wednesday, At Miami, Fla., Jake La Motta, New York vs. Danny Nardico, Tampa, Fla., light heavies, 10 rounds (CBS).

Friday, At New York's Madison Square Garden—Teddy (Red) Davis, Hartford Conn. vs. Fabella Chavez, Los Angeles, featherweights, 10 rounds (NBC).

Although there has been no official announcement, it is reported a new Saturday night boxing series with Ray Arcel as matchmaker will open Jan. 24 from Boston with Johnny Gonsalves, ranking lightweight contender from Oakland, Calif., meeting Paddy DeMarco, rugged Brooklyn contender.

The shows will move from city to city, outside of New York, with the local area blacked out. The main events will go on at 9 p. m.

Despinto To Seek All-Time Riding Mark

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Apprentice Jockey Anthony Despinto returns to Tropical Park today with an all-time riding record almost within his grasp.

The Lawrence, Mass. rider who celebrated his 18th birthday on Christmas Eve, rode three winners at Havana's Oriental Park Sunday to run his total for the year to 381—just eight short of a new world record.

Despinto has mounts in seven of the nine races on today's program and with reasonable luck in the three remaining days could shatter the old mark of 388 set 46 years ago and tied in 1950.

"I'm very much hopeful of breaking that record," he said. "I would say that I have a better than fifty-fifty chance of setting a new record. Let's say six to five."

OSU And Minnesota Cagers Lead Scorers

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Ebert Ohio State's 6-foot-4 junior center and Chuck Menzel of Minnesota sophomore guard, share the Big Ten basketball scoring lead today, each with a 19.2 point average in four games.

Ebert, runner-up last season, improved his average by 12 to vault from sixth place on the sharpshooting list last week to the top. Menzel led last week and has not played since.

Badgers, USC Head Into Final Rose Bowl Drills

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin and Southern California head into the final phases of conditioning today and the coaches of both Rose Bowl teams admittedly are seeking the answers to question marks as their New Year's Day battle draws near.

Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin while seemingly not seriously disturbed, said today he might juggle his backfield offensive combination for the kickoff.

USC Coach Jess Hill is still tinkering with his defensive secondary lineup to plug the gap caused when left halfback Jim Patsis was declared ineligible by the coast conference last week.

Williamson said Roger Dornburg, 180-pounder from Naperville, Ill., ordinarily a linebacker, might start on offense at right halfback, replacing Jerry Witt.

Dornburg has played the position on occasion and presumably will be utilized for straight ahead plunges. He is said to be more effective at this than 184-pound Witt, whose specialty is pichtouts and end sweeps.

W. Va. Ranks High On Defense, Offense

MORGANTOWN (AP)—West Virginia's 1952 football team ranked seventh among the nation's schools in total defense and eighth in rushing offense the past season.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association reported yesterday the Mountaineers, whose 7-2 season was their finest in 15 years, held opponents to 211.2 yards per game by rushing and passing.

At the same time WVU marked up an average of 263.9 yards rushing per game.

The Morgantown school was 10th in total offense with 377.2 yards per game and 12th in rushing defense, allowing opponents 111.4 yards per game.

The Mountaineers however were fifth in yardage lost by penalties with 78.1 yards per game.

Individually WVU halfback Jack Stone tied for 25th place in the scoring column with 60 points for the season and Freshman Quarterback Freddy Wyant ranked 47th among passers.

Pacesetting Mohawks Swamp Toledo, 9-2

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Mohawks handsomely demonstrated the reason why they are five games ahead in the International Hockey League runaway with a crushing 9-2 triumph over Toledo Sunday night that dropped the Mercurys to third place.

It was the third loss of the week for the fast-fading Merces against one victory, and enabled Troy (O.) to ease into second spot as the Bruins blanked Grand Rapids 7-0 in the other IHL contest Sunday.

The Bruins had been tied with Toledo for two straight weeks. They won two games and lost one during the week, as did Cincinnati. Troy is now 10 points behind the Mohawks' 47 points, but two points in front of Toledo.

The three other teams in the league continued to bring up the rear, with Milwaukee, Wis., and Grand Rapids, Mich., still tied in fourth place behind the three Ohio teams and Fort Wayne, Ind., lazying along in last.

East Coach Criticized, Praised In Team's Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Criticism of Biggie Munn, coach of the year, for not using Holy Cross' ace quarterback, Charley Maloy, for even one play mingled today with praise of QB Tom O'Connell and his East mates for their thrilling 21-20 victory over the West in the Shrine football game.

O'Connell, from Illinois, directed the entire East offense. He sparked a 71-yard drive that produced the winning touchdown with 53 seconds remaining. And he set three passing records for the 28-year-old game that pours more than $100,000 annually into the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

O'Connell, No. 2 collegiate passer in the nation the past season, was voted the game's outstanding player.

Lakers, Knicks Hold Pro Basketball Leads

The Minneapolis Lakers and New York Knickerbockers both held their divisional leads in the National Basketball Association today.

The Knicks routed the Philadelphia Warriors yesterday, 72-54 with Ernie Vandeweghe scoring 15 points and Sweetwater Clifton 14. With the runner-up Syracuse Nationals whipping the Indianapolis Olympians 84-73 the Knicks' Eastern division margin remained at a half-game. Red Roca of Syracuse registered 18 points.

In the Western division the Lakers came from behind to score an 86-77 victory over the Milwaukee Hawks. The win increased Minneapolis margin to two games over the Rochester Royals who were idle.

In the other NBA game the Boston Celtics led by Bob Cousy a 22 points, trounced the Fort Wayne Pistons, 89-66.

No 'Little Merchant' System

Newsboy Plan Seen Doomed In Britain

By ROBERT F. S. JONES

LONDON (U) — In Britain most boys think it is beneath their dignity to earn a few coppers by delivering newspapers.

And it looks like things are going to stay that way, despite a plea by 17 British newsmen that the American system of "little merchant" newsboys might be an idea worth trying.

The suggestion came from a group representing British newspapers of all sizes outside London. After visiting American newspapers under the auspices of the Anglo-American Productivity Council, the group reported:

"The 'little merchant' system 'can be a worthy and healthy effort (which) need not interfere with education and can instill in the youngsters the germ of business ability.'"

In Britain, the man who sells most of the newspapers is the news agent. He keeps a little shop that sells papers, tobacco and cigarettes, candy and a variety of odds and ends.

He gets his newspapers in bulk from wholesalers, splits them up and generally employs several boys on what the British call a newspaper "round" to push them under front doors. The boys get paid a flat rate—which varies according to the news agent—based on the number of customers on their round.

This system has worked so well for over 50 years that the 47,000 news agents scattered through Britain's towns and villages aren't losing much sleep over the suggestion that "little merchants" take over their work.

Albert Whinfrey, general secretary of the News Agents Federation, points out: The distribution of newspapers in Britain is complicated because well over 50 per cent of papers read are "national dailies" published in London and printed here or in large centers in the north.

The papers arrive at distribution centers by train, where they are collected by wholesalers. "Boys couldn't do this—railways wouldn't take kindly to a pack of kids running around," Whinfrey said.

How Can I ? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean rugs on the floor?

A. Rugs may be cleaned very nicely on the floor if washed with soap suds applied with a brush. Use only suds and as little liquid as possible. Wipe the rug after washing with a clean cloth.

Q. How can I easily remove egg discolorations from silverware?

A. If one drops the silver that has been used on eggs into a pan of salt water the minute they come from the table, they are less likely to be discolored.

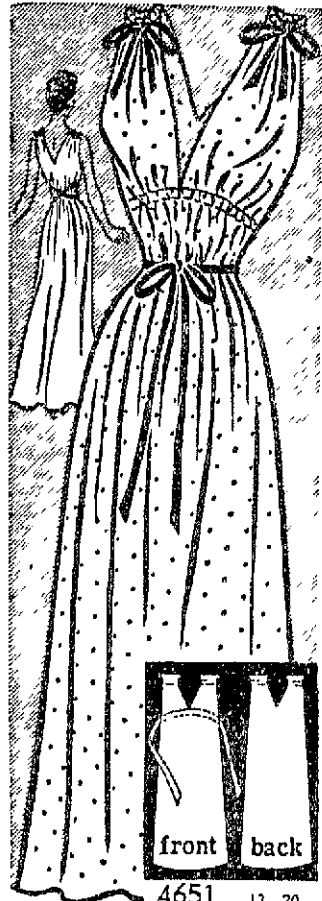

Q. How can I fertilize house plants?

A. Cold tea poured over the house plants will prove very effective as a fertilizer.

Testimony Pressed

On Jury Tampering

WASHINGTON (U) — A House committee called today for public testimony on reports that justice officials tried to interfere with a grand jury inquiry into subversives in the United Nations.

The federal grand jury, ending work in New York early this month, recommended that a new grand jury continue an investigation of U. S. citizens with Communist associations who are on the U.N. staff.

The judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating the Justice Department has been checking into reports that an attempt was made to get the jury to delay or tone down its recommendation on the subject.

After closed-door testimony was taken 10 days ago, Rep. Chell (D-Ky) and Rep. Keating (R-NY) told newsmen that what they heard made their blood boil.

Electricity For Industry

New Congress May Push Atom Into Civilian Work

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Congress may give the atom a job in civilian life.

Within two or three years, officials estimate, a small pioneer "package" atomic plant could be producing limited quantities of electric power for industry.

In five years or less, a large central atomic plant could be built, generating energy by the millions of kilowatts instead of thousands, and also turning out plutonium for atom bomb.

But today there are no plans to construct either.

Industry is not ready to risk millions of dollars of stockholders' money in experimental plants that hold little promise of profits for many years. The Atomic Energy Commission is not yet ready to divert the money or resources from defense.

These proposals and others, however, are almost certain to be heard early in the new year before the joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), outgoing chairman, has announced he will ask for hearings quickly on industrial participation in the atomic program, now a government monopoly.

It may require anywhere from 10 to 50 years, according to expert estimates compiled in a report this month by the congressional committee, before atomic-generated electric power can be made cheaply enough to compete with energy from coal, oil or water power.

To shorten the time, officials and industry experts agree, it probably will be necessary to gain experience from the erection and operation of experimental plants and prototype reactors. They estimated the cost at five million dollars or more for the little "package" power plant and 60 to 80 million dollars for the large plant that would turn out both power and plutonium.

Pressure is building up on Congress and the AEC to break the ice—to work out some kind of industry-government partnership which will enlist the driving force of private competition in atomic development. The idea of a perpetual government monopoly is not accepted by AEC, Congress, or industry.

The AEC is writing a report on its views for the proposed congressional hearings. It also created this fall an office of industrial development, with orders to plan for a day when "industry will carry on its own a substantial part of the national atomic program."

A former AEC commissioner, T. Keith Glennan, president of Cleveland's Case Institute of Technology, urged chemical manufacturers a few days ago to help set up an association of companies in all fields related to nuclear fission. This group could put forth industry's views at the important congressional hearings, Glennan said. The immediate objectives are limited. Real-life prospects do not indicate early fulfillment of any dreams of autos which operate for their lifetime on one atomic pill, or cities which are fueled, lighted and heated by an atomic storage battery.

Where cost counts little, as in matters of national security, wonders are possible. An atomic submarine is on the way and an atomic warplane may be in the air within a decade. These could lead to atom-powered ocean liners, air transports and even locomotives.

But atomic reactors are bulky and costly. They present enormous problems in the conversion of heat to power and in disposal of radioactive waste; they must be walled behind six feet of concrete or the equivalent.

Proposals include:
1. An industry proposal that AEC build and own a pilot-plant reactor. Once it is completed and technical questions answered, industry might invest in a full-scale plant.
2. Another industry plan, from Dow Chemical Co. and Detroit Edison Co.: That government research be continued until technical problems are solved, whereon "the two companies would like to build and operate a commercial sized reactor plant using private capital and without recourse to governmental funds."

3. A proposal having considerable support in government and industry: The government would build and own a reactor to make power and plutonium; on the same site, private utilities would build the necessary facilities to take off the energy and distribute it. No change in the atomic energy act would be needed.

4. The "power package" proposal: This plan, under serious AEC consideration, calls for federal construction of a small plant in an isolated area where conventional power is excessively high priced. AEC is now making a survey of such marginal power areas where atomic energy might be competitive.

5. The all-government approach: AEC might build the first plant and generate power for its own use. The atomic program, far from adding to the country's power capacity, next year will be consuming 2½ per cent of all power produced.

6. The foundation proposal: Advanced by a former AEC member, this plan suggests private foundations pool their funds to finance an atomic power plant for developmental purposes.

7. The offshore proposal: An atomic power plant might pay its way in countries where electricity cost more than in the United States; several have suggested that "point four" appropriations might be used to build a pioneer reactor in some underdeveloped country.

On Subjects From Korea To Leahy

Boyle Once More Dusts Off Crystal Ball

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It is time for our annual fuzzy forecast of what lies ahead in the coming year. Yes, what's to be in '53?
It isn't an easy question to answer. The old crystal ball is more clouded than usual this season. However, you can bet right now that:
The Korean police action will change from the present stalemate in which the robbers are arresting the cops.
A new cure for the common cold will be trumpeted in February—and abandoned by April. Most people will decide the best way to get well is to go to bed.
Two new mysterious viruses—"Y" and "Z"—will be discovered for patients who decide virus "X" is no longer either mysterious or fashionable.
As most women will become a year older, the number of blondes will increase remarkably.
Somewhere in Florida a motorist, annoyed by a buzzing in the engine, will lift up the hood of his car—and find an angry rattlesnake, coiled to strike. (For some reason this has happened somewhere in Florida every year since the invention of the motor car, except in 1927, when it happened somewhere in North Carolina.)
In late spring Coach Frank Leahy will announce the football situation at Notre Dame is hopeless. His team will end the 1953 season undefeated, untied, hailed as one of the greatest in history.
A new kind of cheap frozen food, palatable to both man and dog, will be developed. This will enable more wives to take the kids on summer vacations, secure in the knowledge that back home their husband and the family pet will be able to fix an easy meal they can enjoy together.
The cost of living will rise slightly, and so will skirts. So will men's interest.
Interest in economy will pick up markedly in both government and private life. One sign will be a new article of feminine apparel marketed by a budget-minded designer—a lady's hat that can also be used as a handbag.
The literary world will be flooded by the published memoirs of 1,312 ex-Democratic officeholders, all giving the "only true inside story" of what has been going on in Washington.
Some 1,312 new Republican officeholders will begin keeping secret diaries as an investment against the day of their own unemployment.
The calls for a cut in taxes will become louder, but remain as academic as ever. Five cities will adopt a municipal income tax, but reject attempts to force the licensing of cats.
The five-cent hot dog will remain a memory, the 10-cent hot dog will grow no larger.
A slowly falling birth rate plus an increase in the number of teenagers and even more elderly people will result in a sharp price war among baby sitters. It's the old problem of supply outrunning demand.
As more women take jobs now held by men, a male movement for equal rights will be launched. The organization will hire a lady public relations expert.
And the average human being in 1953 will go right on holding his job, living in faith with those he loves—and desperately hoping that no one will blow apart the little world that, for all its faults and failures, is the best world he knows.

Coast-To-Coast Picture

New Year Celebrations To Cost About The Same

NEW YORK (AP)—What will it cost a couple to go to a hotel or night club and there don paper caps and blow horns and yell "Happy new year" at the stroke of midnight?
In terms of money it will be just about the same as last year from coast to coast.
Speaking of advertised prices only, here are a few from the nation's larger cities:
New York—Minimum checks of $27.50 a person in a few of the best-known night clubs are the top. Such hotels as the Waldorf-Astoria and Plaza are charging $20 minimums per person. Plenty of others are charging lower prices. There also are about 1,500 bars in the city where you can walk in, buy one drink and yell "Happy new year!" at midnight if you're determined to do it.
Greater Miami area—A dozen or more beach hotels now have supper clubs and are reported offering keen competition to night clubs. In the latter, prices will range from $12.50 to $25 per person. One big hotel is charging $20 a head. Night clubs and hotel supper rooms report heavier bookings than last year, with prices about the same or a little less.
Kansas City — From $8.50 to $12.50 a person for a seven-course dinner, favors and entertainment. Drinks are extra.
Chicago—From $8.10 to $15.55 at principal night clubs and hotels for dinner, dancing, entertainment, favors and noisemakers.
Boston—$10 to $12 apiece for the works—except liquor.
New Orleans—Like New York, a big range here — $2 to $20. But for $20 they give you a highball and a pint of champagne with dinner and entertainment. After you've consumed those, you're on your own.
San Francisco — From $12.50 a person down, with liquor extra.
Dallas — From $15 down. No liquor by the drink is sold in Texas public places, but you can bring your own jug and buy setups.

British May Study Donora Smog Report

LONDON (AP)—British legislators trying to do something about the deaths resulting from London's smoke-laden fogs may make use of a U. S. government report on the Donora, Pa., smog of 1948, which killed 19 persons.
A spokesman for the U. S. Embassy said yesterday it will furnish the report to Laborite Parliament Member Norman Dodds, who requested it. He is preparing an all-out campaign against London's smogs.
Here, as in Donora, smothering fogs containing acid fumes from industrial plants have been blamed for deaths, especially among asthma-cardiac sufferers.
Dodds said more than 2,000 persons died from the record London smog Dec. 6 to 9.

India's First Cardinal Appointed By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican announced today that Archbishop Valeriano Gracias of Bombay is being named to the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic church.
He takes the place vacated Saturday by the death of Carlo Agostini, Patriarch of Venice. He will be India's first cardinal.
The surprise announcement of his appointment emphasized Pope Pius' determination to bring the college to its full strength of 70 members at the consistory here next month. The college has not had full membership in two centuries.

Going, Going, Gone

PONCA CITY, Okla.—When volunteer models went behind stage to the poncy latest "creations" at the Ponca City church association fashion show, they found the dressing room empty. Someone remembered that the room doubled as a rummage sale storeroom. The models stepped to the rummage sale scene and found some of their finery already had been sold.

A Doberman pinscher guard spies an "intruder" on the main floor of department store during patrol with a store policeman. Inset, dog corners the "intruder" and keeps him "covered" until guard arrives. If the "invader" runs, the dog will attack him.

CHAINED to stanchion overnight in department where thefts have been reported, a guard dog barks when anyone approaches. Microphone relays sound.

THE COMMAND "get him" sends a Doberman at a trainer, who protects himself with a padded sleeve. In a fight, the dog won't give up unless he is killed.

CONSTANT TRAINING on the roof keeps dogs fit for their job. They are taught to follow intruders up and down stairways in case they attempt to escape.

NAILS ARE clipped to prevent dogs from making scratching noises of warning on floors. Dobermans get their ears washed, eyes bathed and paws inspected.

King Features Syndicate

DOGS ON THE PROWL

FOUR highly-trained Doberman pinschers make the rounds of a New York department store every night after closing time. They are the store's new "night patrolmen"—alert for intruders, smoke, escaping steam, running water or anything else irregular. The dogs are accompanied by guards as they patrol the more than 2,000,000 square feet of space from the sub-sub-basement to the twentieth floor of the vast Macy store.

At certain designated areas on each floor, the dogs are unleashed and told to "search." Should the dogs come upon anything suspicious they bark a warning, bringing a store policeman. If the object of a dog's suspicion is an intruder, the Doberman will "watch" his man. So long as the cornered invader remains still, the dog won't act, attacking only if the uninvited, non-paying "customer" attempts to escape.

The department store is believed to be the first in the east to use dogs as night watchmen. Protection Manager Francis Fay tried several other types of dogs before settling on the short-haired Dobermans, which can work in stuffy areas without tiring quickly.

Dogs received initial training at Canine college in Connecticut, where they were taught basic commands of "search," "jump," "heel," "get him" and other orders a guard dog must obey implicitly.

AN INTRUDER would face this terrifying scene if he tried to run away from a guard dog. Dogs can climb ladders, jump through window frames and leap over hurdles.

BUZZ SAWYER

IT WORKED, SAWYER! AT LAST WE'VE GOT AN APPOINTMENT WITH THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR.

NOW IF WE CAN ONLY CONVINCE HIM THAT HARRY SPARROW IS A SCHEMING SCOUNDREL!

2371 WORTH ST. J.O.

OUT SPARROW IS AT WORK, TOO.

BUT, HARRY, I LIKE LUCKY.

DEAR IT, FIFI! YOUR JOB IS TO WIN BACK THE MINISTER. YOU'LL CALL HIM THIS VERY MINUTE.

FIFI! WHY, I THOUGHT YOU WERE ANGRY WITH ME.

YOU ARE BEING SILLY, BUT HOW COULD YOU BE ANGRY WITH ME? HER ADORER!

VERY GOOD, FIFI! MAKE IT DRIP WITH MONEY.

STEVE CANYON

NICE WAY TO START THE NEW YEAR, CANYON! YOU SEEM TO HAVE LOST YOUR GIRL—AND YOUR NEW COMMAND IS SUPPOSED TO BE IN DUCH WITH THE GOOD CITIZENS OF THE TOWN OF INDIAN CAPE!

IT LOOKS LIKE ANY OTHER SMALL PLACE RELAXING BETWEEN HOLIDAYS...

THESE PEOPLE ALL ACT FRIENDLY ENOUGH! THE GALS STILL SEEM TO GO FOR GUYS IN UNIFORM...

MAYBE THE TALK OF HOSTILITY HAS BEEN EXAGGERATED.

HANDS UP!

HIM MUST DIE!

DIZINAGRATE HIM!

SECRET AGENT

I WANTED TO BE A PAINTER—UNTIL I MET YOU, JOE OTTERFOOT...

AFTER THAT, ALL I WANTED TO BE WAS A HOUSEWIFE!

YOU KISSED AND RAN—IT WAS MY FAULT, FOR THINKING THAT YOU LOVED ME—

LIKE A POOR GOOSE, I BOUGHT A COOKBOOK—AND THEN MY GANDER MEANDERED...

...I WAS THE ONE WHO GOT COOKED!

I—I'M THROUGH WITH MEN—WITH ART—EVERYTHING!

RIF KIRBY

WHY IS KNOWLEDGE OF TAPE RECORDERS ON THE PART OF MILLBANK'S MURDER SUSPECTS OF SPECIAL INTEREST, MR. KIRBY?

WE THINK "SIR" HARRY'S KILLER REMOVED THE TAPE THAT HAD BEEN RUNNING AT THE TIME OF THE SHOOTING, DESIGNED BECAUSE IT PICKED UP INCrimINATING SOUNDS.

I TAKE IT THAT TENDS TO CLEAR JESSICA, NOT INTENDING AT FIRST TO DENY THE CRIME. SHE WOULD HAVE NO REASON TO CHANGE TAPES. NOW DID YOU HIT UPON IT, SIR?

MILLBANK HAD BACH'S CHACONNE ON THE STAND... BUT THE MUSIC ON THE MACHINE WAS THE BADINAGE FROM THE B. MINOR. QUITE SIMPLE...

ASTUTE, SIR! THAT IS THE WORD WHICH OCCURS! I'M NOT AT ALL CERTAIN I WOULD HAVE NOTICED THE DISCREPANCY.

THANK YOU! BUT NOW TO START CALLING ON THESE GAVLING VICTIMS OF "SIR" HARRY...

GASOLINE ALLEY

That was a good idea, Nina, putting our gifts back in their boxes.

Mommy, I want my raggedy doll.

An! I want my uke!

That's funny. Sleepz. Here's the fur piece I gave Mother!

And here's the muffler I gave Father Clock.

And here's his wool sweater!

Darling! We brought home their gifts along with ours!

Mommy, want my bulldozer!

JOE PALOOKA

H'LO... NO, SHE AINT IN... I'M HER OLE MAN... WHATTIA YA WANT?

THIS IS THE TOP MODELS AGENCY. WOULD YOU ASK MISS LA VERNE TO CALL AND ASK FOR MR. BOWER?

DOT ZIESNOWSKA WASN'T CLASSY ENOUGH... WALSH HADDA MAKE 'ER CHANGE IT...

I HAD A WONDERFUL NITE, KNOBBY.

SEE YA T'WORRA, HONEY.

SAY... THERE WAS A CALL FOR A JOE... IT'S... IT'S... UNBELIEVABLE! THEY WANT A SEE YA.

OH, PAPP... OH, NO! UNBELIEVABLE! IT'S...

New Cumberland R. D. 2 was examined at City Hospital after cars operated by Carl D. Johnson of Mason, W. Va., and John F. Calhoun, 49, of 535 Mulberry St. collided at 9:36 p. m. Saturday on the Pennsylvania Ave., "Hill Rd."

Miss Emley was a passenger in Johnson's car, owned by Ralph M. Ward of New Cumberland.

Calhoun forfeited a $16 bond when he failed to appear in Municipal Court on an intoxication charge. Police said the car is owned by Dorothy J. Calhoun, 205 1/2 W. Third St.

City Driver Forfeits After 3-Way Collision

An East Liverpool man forfeited $11 this morning when he failed to appear at Municipal Court on an unsafe operation charge filed Sunday afternoon by the State Highway Patrol at Salem after a three-way truck and auto collision on Route 30 near the city limits.

Ira M. Means, 30, of 815 Alton St. was cited after his 1946 panel truck struck the rear of a pickup truck which in turn hit the rear of a car, the patrol said. The truck and car, also headed north, were driven by August Kalich of Cleveland and Matthew Katrinak of Chicago. No one was injured.

2 Youngstown Men Hurt In Mishap At Wellsville

A Safeway cab and a car driven by Ben Martini of Youngstown were damaged in a collision Sunday night at 3rd and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Martini suffered a cut above the eye and a passenger, Francis Hoffman, also of Youngstown, suffered a shoulder injury.

Youth, 19, Fined $135 After Hitting Cruiser

LISBON—A 19-year-old Rogers youth was fined a total of $135 and costs on two charges after he crashed into the village police cruiser during a 100-mile-an-hour chase early Sunday morning on the Lisbon-Elkton Rd.

Joseph A. Bukoffsky of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $100 and costs for reckless driving and $35 and costs for resisting arrest after pleading guilty at a hearing before Mayor Wilbur Warren.

The cruiser was hit when Bukoffsky slowed down on a command from Patrolman John Holshue, but then cut in front of the officer, police said. Mayor Warren estimated about $500 damage to the cruiser, which was purchased about a month ago.

Meanwhile, Charles W. Carnes of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs on a reckless driving charge and $20 and costs for driving an unsafe car at a hearing before Mayor Warren.

Carnes was cited Saturday by the State Highway Patrol at Salem following an accident on the Calcutta Rd.

Walter Holmes Jr. of Massillon was fined $15 and costs for reckless operation after crashing a traffic light in East Liverpool. He was cited Saturday by the patrol.

Police reported the occupants of two cars and the driver of a truck were shaken up in a three-vehicle collision Sunday night at 6:50 at Chestnut St. and Lincoln Way.

Police said the brakes failed on a truck operated by Richard Coleman of Lisbon and it crashed into a car driven by William Welch of Elyria. Welch's machine then hit a car driven by Dean Adams of Lisbon R. D. 3.

East Palestine Woman Hurt In Route 14 Crash

An East Palestine woman was injured Sunday in a three-way collision on Route 14, four miles east of Columbiana.

Betty Williams, 20, was treated at Salem City Hospital for head and facial cuts. Also involved were cars driven by John Keys, 22, of Detroit and John Satterlee of Bethlehem, Pa.

Keys, cited by the State Highway Patrol at Salem for reckless operation, was fined $20 and costs by Mayor Harry Vincent of Salem.

Firemen Start To Two Blazes, Reach Neither

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—County firemen started out for two fires the other day but didn't make it to either.

One truck on its way to a minor house fire lost a wheel, jumped a curb and demolished a shelter for bus passengers which had just been vacated by two youngsters. Another fire truck on its way to a grass fire collided with a passenger car at a street intersection.

The house fire was extinguished by another crew and the grass fire burned itself out.

Three R's Not Enough, Educator Charges

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—A person can be a scholar and also be "a moral idiot, a social incompetent and a political irresponsible," according to Dr. Charles D. Tenney of Southern Illinois University.

He made the statement in answer to charges by three University of Illinois professors that modern educators had drifted away from teaching the "three R's" into teaching trivialities.

Tenney said school curricula must take into account "not only intellectual but also moral and social development."

Sawyer's Swan Song

The mystery isn't what has come over Ohio's Charles Sawyer to make him renounce the party line of the creeping socialists but what made him hew to the line as secretary of commerce in the Truman cabinet.

The first verse to his swan song as a Fair Dealer was to blast the overstaffing and all-around incompetence of the Mutual Security Agency. This is Averell Harriman's outfit, shortly to be turned over to Harold Stassen. So much for knuckle-headedness in foreign aid.

Then, in a letter acknowledging a report on antitrust legislation by the Business Advisory Council of the Department of Commerce, Mr. Sawyer hit a sour note for all the Fair Dealers, the New Dealers who preceded them and the Raw Dealers waiting to close in for the kill.

He declared in his official capacity as secretary of commerce what has been evident ever since the Department of Commerce was turned over to such eminent friends of enterprise as Harry L. Hopkins and Henry A. Wallace.

Business, Secretary Sawyer conceded, had been kicked around by a government which had unsympathetic motives. The Department of Justice had persecuted it with antitrust actions based on prejudice against bigness in business enterprise.

The net effect of letting business be man-handled by government was to damn a businessman if he did and to damn him if he didn't. Whatever he did was wrong. He had a Hobson's choice between bankruptcy and prosecution.

This atmosphere will be changed under an administration which has renounced socialism as a proper goal for an American political party.

It no longer will be the aim of Washington to destroy what it cannot control, in the hope of picking up the pieces for a new structure of statism.

No longer will the Department of Commerce and other federal departments and agencies be staffed with enemies of the free-enterprise system, subsidized on the federal payroll to undermine and overthrow the society which protected their right to attack it.

No one ever doubted that Charles Sawyer thought of himself as a defender of free enterprise in the camp of the enemy — and on occasion he sang out an alarm. But if he keeps singing the way he has been singing the last few days, he will be the only member of the Truman cabinet whose name will be remembered longer than a stutterer can say, "Dean Acheson."

Something New In Washington

Never has an incoming government been shaped up so clearly before taking office as the Eisenhower administration is in these waning days of 1952.

It has not only the strong character imparted to it by the men who will fill its policy-making positions, but these men are giving it character by statements of intent.

Dwight Eisenhower, who has the highest facility of thought and expression of any president since Woodrow Wilson, has taken leadership in the restoration of confidence in federal authority.

Those who scoffed during the presidential campaign when the man who had led a "crusade" in Europe said he was leading a crusade in America are not scoffing any more. He meant it.

"It is my conviction," he told the annual meeting of the Freedoms Foundation, "that the great struggle of our times is one of spirit. It is a struggle for the hearts and souls of men not merely for property, or even merely for power. It is a contest for the beliefs, the convictions, the very innermost soul of the human being."

The President-elect then added — and this should be marked well — that "if we are going to win this fight we must go back to the fundamentals." The ideological war must be won at home before it can be won abroad.

In plainer words, Americans must practice what they preach.

There will be no sympathy in Washington after Jan. 20 for government administrators who preach about saving freedom but practice its destruction.

Noblest Of Fowl!

Within from two to five days after Christmas, depending on the number of consumers, holiday turkey disappears.

Except for the growing minority of turkey-anime Americans, this is the end of turkey eating until the next Thanksgiving.

Their debt lies on their consciences. Americans owe more to this noblest of fowl than can be repaid.

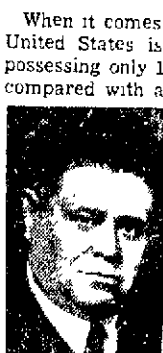

Without a super-chicken to appease their appetites on the two great gustatory occasions of the year, Thanksgiving and Christmas would never have become memorable.

Happy new year in advance to all the little turkeys who will have been called on before this time next year to make the supreme sacrifice for the worthiest of all causes.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Our Strength Lies In Our Productive Capacity

When it comes to manpower, the United States is a weak country, possessing only 158,000,000 persons, compared with about 800,000,000 in the Soviet world and 362,000,000 for India. If only manpower mattered, the United States could be overrun and inundated by Asiatic and Slav hordes. Fortunately, our real power lies in the overwhelming productive capacity of our people. That productive capacity, which includes an unbelievable ingenuity in analyzing and solving what seem to be insurmountable problems, in two wars proved our ability to provide means and devices to achieve victory. Our productive management has done better than our statesmen, who lost in the negotiations.

FREDERICK C. MILLS, in a brilliant analysis of this situation published by the National Bureau of Economic Research, makes an extremely telling point:

"Over the last half century the real national product of the United States increased fivefold, while population doubled. Output per capita of the population increased two and one-half times. Here was the basis of a substantial advance in economic power and in levels of consumption."

"Over this same period the total volume of human effort going into production (measured by man-hours of labor input) increased by 80 per cent. The great gain in total output was won with an increase in labor input well below the increase in population. Here is evidence of a gain in welfare in another dimension — a saving of effort and a lightening of the toil by which the material needs of life are satisfied."

"The major instrument used in the winning of these dual gains was enhanced productivity."

No slave labor was employed to achieve this stupendous result. In fact, wages increased, hours were shortened, working conditions improved.

The actual standards of life were raised to what 50 years ago seemed unbelievable levels. The machine took up the load of the increase. And the machine is the product of the human mind, an instrument designed to free man from the limitations of his own physical strength and functions."

THE PROPER utilization of the machine and the adjustment of manpower to it require scientific management which eliminates, to an increasing degree, guesswork and estimates.

Scientific management applies not only the principles of engineering to industry, but it probes into all the natural sciences to achieve its ends. Without it, atomic fission would have been impossible and the bomb could never have been made.

This instrument is the product of several thousand industrial enterprises synchronizing their plants and know-hows on a single problem. This operation, more than any other, proved the industrial capacity of this country because it was an exploration into the unknown.

Our most pressing industrial problems at this moment are war and the preparation for war. This is ordinarily a wasteful, hit-and-miss business, because in war two targets stand before management — the quickest defeat of the enemy; the utilization of mechanical devices with a view to minimizing the loss of human life.

Therefore, if a better tank can be made, production is stopped; the new product is blueprinted, machinery tooling and made. It is a frightfully expensive operation.

In private enterprise, the new designs might wait a long time for market availability, which is a thrifty attitude. Yet, the apparent extravagance of the military method is justified by the two targets already referred to, namely, victory and lessened loss of life.

HOWEVER, THE direct application of scientific management to this problem, at the very top, may achieve unexpectedly favorable results.

No secretary of defense heretofore has been from management. Porrett and Lovett were bankers; Johnson was a lawyer; Marshall was a soldier. Charles E. Wilson is directly out of management in the largest industrial enterprise in America.

His training in scientific management can make all the difference, if he is not bogged down in politics. He can apply the proved rules of scientific management to the national defense.

And he will have unusual support. George M. Humphrey, the prospective secretary of the treasury; Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense, and Robert Ten Broeck Stevens, secretary of the Army, come out of scientific management and their point of view will be the same as C. E. Wilson's in relationship to this problem.

A nation that has to look to production for national security needs to emphasize the importance of scientific management in its government.

We Firmly Resolve

By Frank Tripp

We do firmly resolve at our house that for and during the year 1953 we each of us shall do or refrain from doing the things set forth herein; binding ourselves to no less a penalty than that which the one offended may prescribe.

That is—or was—the preamble to a New Year's resolution set down one of those rare evenings when man and wife open their hearts, admit their faults and react as a single saintly being, then awake at dawn thinking what a mistake it was.

Ours was a considerable list of near sins and minor misdemeanors. To expose them all would be like inviting you to come and spend a year with us. Ten to one you can conduct the same research right under your own roof.

It happened one night after Fanny had phoned, "Why don't you stay in town; you haven't taken a night out in a week."

I CALLED a couple of cronies, found they were tied up, then disappointedly phoned back: "Look, mom, there's nobody in the world I'd rather spend the evening with than you. I'll be home."

There was a pause, then she said: "All right, but it'll be pot luck. Anna is out, we'll be alone." Whereupon, it turned out, she canceled a favorite bridge table she had invited in. That's how a pair of liars changed their plans for a pleasant evening.

"Don't you feel well?" she asked when I got home. "I feel fine."

I said, "Why don't you come clean; what did you have on the carpet?"

She told me about the bridge party and I confessed about the cronies. Over a shaker of sours we got soft on each other.

Conversation got around to the great stere folks once put in New Year's resolutions, which they rarely observed beyond Ground Hog Day.

"Now there's that matter of hiding my old clothes," I said. "I just get a suit spotted up to where I can enjoy it, when it gets lost in the attic en route to the Salvation Army."

She said: "All right, put that on the list—and put down about that stinking mess of cigarette stubs, pipe scrapings, ashes and food scraps that are spread around your chair every morning."

I was losing. "Okay with me," I signed, "provided my papers, books and scribbles are left right where I leave them. No more slicking up so it takes till noon to find out where I left off last night."

That one didn't set too good and I had to settle by agreeing to air the room, empty the ash trays and take the litter and empties to the kitchen. Oh yes, also confine late refrigerator raids to leftovers.

Already I had the dirty end of the big reform. "In return for which," I said, "there's to be no more carrots in the beef stews, no tomatoes in the clam chowder; and those penwipers that you call guest towels will make way for a he towel that a guy can wipe on."

She countered, "All that's in Anna's department."

I said, "Maybe, but you run the house, don't you?"

"Says who?" she said. I knew what she meant, but added, "Let's keep Anna out of this." Whereupon we decided to retire.

NEXT MORNING she said, "Let me see that thing you wrote last night." Right off she started: "Now about that mess you leave around every night. I won't agree to—"

"Wait just a minute," I interrupted. "We've had a nice Christmas and we're moving into our 49th year together with no major casualties. Let's not—"

"I know," she broke in, "but these things about carrots and towels, falling for your lies about your whereabouts, and the fairy tales you write for gospel. Maybe you can kill four million readers but—"

"I'll fix it," I said, glad for the cut. "I guess we've had a pretty happy life together, sort of enjoying each other's faults. We'll do like they do in the legislature; kill the enacting clause."

"I've got a better idea," she smiled. "Let's burn the fool thing!" As we watched the ash flutter in the fireplace, Fanny said:

"Wouldn't this be a wonderful world if everybody's gripes could either up the chimney just I like that?"

Happy New Year to you—from me and my pal.

Odd Facts

Astronomers have discovered a new white dwarf star that is smaller than the moon, heavier than the sun. A man weighing 150 pounds on earth would weigh several hundred thousand tons on the new dense star because of the difference in gravitational pull.

Every year divisible by four is a Leap Year, with the exception of those years divisible by 100 and not divisible by 400. Thus, the years 1700, 1800, and 1900 were not Leap Years—while 1600 was and 2000 will be.

Doils were made in the stone age, but it is believed they were used by adults in religious ceremonies rather than by children.

European Blight

Light, Bright And Level

By Mark Dana

This is as good a time as any to catch up on some things inventors are turning out.

The U. S. Patent Office requires that a new device really be new, that it actually works, and that in some way however vague it can benefit mankind.

A door-opening recorder, just patented by Edward B. Lewis of Denver, marks a little pad every time a kitchen, closet, chest or pantry door is opened, and no doubt could be geared to a clock to show what time hubby got home from sitting up with a sick friend or even check on whether the kids peek at the Christmas presents.

Christian M. Jenkins of Malvern, O., wanted to benefit womankind, so she has patented a method of attaching store-bought hair to the hair on a woman's head to give her long and luxuriant tresses.

A woman who cropped her curls and instantly regretted it now may have solace by buying another woman's cropped curls and fastening them to her own. And everybody will be happy. Why doesn't the Patent Office require happiness-giving in all devices?

One Edgar A. Walling of Keego Harbor, Mich., may have had hungry kiddies in mind by devising a motor-vibrated ice cream scoop which digs easily into brick-hard ice cream cans at soda fountains, giving the soda jerk less excuse for putting only an eyedropper full in a soda.

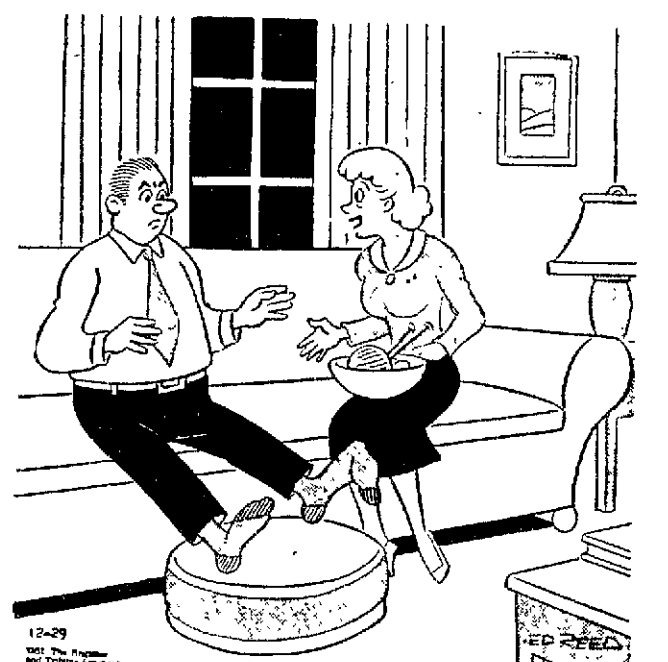

Inventors must be nice people. It would be swell to meet one, buy him a big vibrated-scoop of ice cream and persuade him to invent a robot which could write little articles like this. Probably could do as well, at that.

THE EYE grows moist in long-distance condolence for Alfred F. Cornish of Omaha, who inherited and for long years valiantly maintained the family saddle-making business. But now he has had to move from a huge high-rent building to a smaller place.

His father started in the business in 1888. Youngsters today may not believe it, but there were no cars then, but there were plenty of horses. Indians didn't care for saddles, but white homesteaders enjoyed their comfort. The front part made a dandy snubbing post for a cow-catcher lariat. The big round-back part was splendid for an eloping girl to hold to until her more cozily seated swain in front could locate a minister.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Real News Newsreel

A few days ago a New Brunswick, N. J., man tossed a garbage can through a window and a pretty much wrecked the joint. Arrested, it developed that his outbreak was the result of these occurrences:

1—He ordered his glass cream-banded and they were served extra soft. 2—He rejected them and asked for them medium-banded. 3—Again the chef sent them out soft.

A judge sentenced him, the customer, not the chef, to 90 days in the bastille.

It is this department's contention that the cook, the waiter and the printer should be tossed into the house for at least as long a period, and then released on probation in care of somebody who knows how to cook an egg as ordered.

There is hardly a lunchroom or restaurant patron in America who has not had trouble getting any attention paid to his preferences in boiled or fried eggs.

All restaurant patrons stand firmly behind any movement to free this New Brunswick customer and to demand that before being appointed to any bench a judge pass an egg test proving that he knows a soft-boiled egg from a medium or hard-boiled one and thanks chefs should be similarly intelligent.

We are Exalted Ruler and Imperial Potbelly of the World Organization for Obtaining Eggs as Ordered. This association holds it to be man's constitutional right to haul an ashean or anything else when a lunchroom not only serves the first order until to eat, but repeats it a second time. It believes a man should be permitted, in fact, to hurt lighter articles at waiters and chef for the first offense.

It is the organization's aim to make it legal and highly proper for a customer to go berserk when a perfectly understandable request is made to have the toast well done is completely ignored, in accordance with a creed rigidly adhered to by 80 per cent of all restaurant chefs and waiters in the world.

It is only a few days since people were warmed by the spell of Christmas. . . . Generosity and good will were in the air. . . . Yet already cries of "Keep those kids quiet, I gotta get some rest" are ringing through the home, the Christmas cards are being put away for another year, pop is wondering how to dispose of the tree and mom's request, "Could you let me have a couple of dollars?" brings an indignant, "Am I made of money?"

The cherubs who sang the Yuletide carols are blazing away at one another with Christmas arifles, the gift you bought your girl for $22.50 is now in the window marked, "Closing Out at $11.98," and the boss who was such a jolly old elf at the office party is Old Surpass again.

Looking back over the Yuletide, we can be thankful for the fact there were no song hits called, "I Saw Popper Kissing Cupid and Vixen," or "I Observed Rudie the Red-Nosed Reindeer Embracing Susie Snowflake."

Oscar Hammerstein, who was a top producer of hit musicals when his famous nephew Oscar II was in knickerbockers, celebrated his 80th birthday in Florida the other day.

George Kaufman didn't win any friends on the last "Show Biz" telecast when he said, "Let's keep this one program that never sang 'Silent Night.'"

The famous Willie Howard sketch, "Please pay the two dollars," in which Willie kept making this plea to lawyers who hunted him from court to court is topped by the experience of Frank Costello, whose lawyers' employment of a technicality in the law got him transferred away out into a plain hoosegow in Michigan from a cozy modern prison in sunny Georgia. . . . They wanted him freed on an obscure clause which made his confinement in a penitentiary instead of a common jail illegal.

If Clifton Webb looks like John Philip Sousa we are the spitting image of Ulysses S. Grant. "The Children's Hour" is as absorbing today as it was years ago. . . . Split reviews, half of them saying the show was swell and half saying it laked everything, including music, lyrics and sketches, have been a good thing for the "Two's Company." . . . Everybody wants to go and make up his own mind.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Stolen Auto Found

Destroyed By Flames

A 1938 sedan, which was reported stolen Saturday night, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning on the Campground Rd., police reported.

Police said the car, owned by Lawrence Dickey, 108 E. Fourth St., was found by Sylvester Smith of the Campground Rd. near his home.

Smith said the car still was smoldering when he noticed it. Dickey told police he parked his car at 9:12 p. m. Saturday at Higgs Inn on Routes 7 and 30 and it was missing at 9:45 p. m.

Grid Game Argument

Costs 3 Men $10 Each

An argument over a football game in an E. Sixth St. tavern early Sunday morning led to fines of $10 and costs for three Youngstown men in Municipal Court this morning.

Police said Orlando V. Tamburino, William Armstrong and William Durbin were cited at 1:30 a. m. in the Vi-Jon Bar.

They pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct through "clamor, noise and fighting."

Special Census Counts Show Population Rise
CHICAGO (UP)—Special census counts have been made in several U. S. cities since 1950, according to the International City Managers' Association.
Some cities request the Federal Bureau of Census to make the special counts in an effort to get a larger distribution of state-shared taxes.
The association said Phoenix, Ariz., estimated that as a result

Owners Are Our Best "Salesmen"!

NEVER could we tell all the wonderful things about Nash as forcefully as do Nash owners. And the more they travel—the more enthusiastic they are.
They talk about performance second to none. They talk about the world's finest ride. They talk about the life-saving safety of Airflyte Construction. They talk about beauty, about room, about luxury, about economy unmatched by any other automobile in the world today.

"EIGHT OF US"
"...I found seven of my friends from camp stranded... all their luggage on top of my golf bags and baggage fitted neatly into the roomy trunk (1952 Ambassador). All eight of us, four in front and four in back, were seated without anyone sitting on anyone else's lap." SFC LEON E. ROSENTHAL, Camp Pickett.

"32.3 MILES PER GALLON"
"I drove from Beloit to Minocqua, Wisc., (275 miles) on 8.8 gallons... 32.3 miles per gallon... at 50 miles per hour... Around town, I have been getting 25-27... I have found my Rambler to have excellent riding comfort and it's a joy to drive." MARGARET ANKERSEN, Beloit, Wisc.

"HELPED SAVE ME"
"I received only a few scratches... It helped save me... for security in the event of an accident, there is no better construction than Nash..." ARTHUR S. HARGETT, Baltimore, Maryland.

"CAN'T BE BEAT"
"I have owned 14 Nash cars... they are the best cars I have ever driven and I have owned and driven nearly all other makes and models... for riding, economy, and for speed under all kinds of driving encountered in police work... they can't be beat. They're tops." Chief of Police, HAROLD WALLACE, Sikeston, Missouri.

"TAKES A BACK SEAT TO NONE"
"I have driven my 1952 Nash Ambassador 12,000 miles... my sixth Nash and by far the best... As McCahill says, 'It has the finest shockproof ride in the world' and it takes a back seat to none on hills, for speed or roadability... P.S. Mrs. Leu drives a Nash Rambler." ELMORE H. LEU, Fond du Lac, Wisc.

"30,000 MILES... $9.32 REPAIRS"
"After 30,000 miles of hard driving in less than one year... the total amount of repairs on my Nash Rambler has been $9.32, which to me is almost unbelievable." G. DARWIN KITCHEN, Huntington, W. Va.

"WE OPERATE ONE OF THE LARGEST DEALERS WHOLESALE AUCTIONS IN THE WORLD... AND AMONG USED CAR DEALERS THE NASH LINE IS ALWAYS IN DEMAND. THE ONLY COMPLAINT WE HAVE IS THAT WE DON'T RECEIVE ENOUGH NASH RAMBLERS." WTT'S AUTO AUCTION, Decatur, Illinois.

Mrs. Belva Smith was elected chief matriarch for the Tri-State Ladies Encampment Auxiliary 7 Friday night in the Odd Fellows Hall, East End.

She succeeds Mrs. Leslie Thomas, retiring charter matriarch. Others named were Mrs. Oma Ramsey, high priestess; Mrs. Elizabeth Czech, senior warden; Mrs. Audrey Jackson, junior warden; Mrs. Mary Jane Jennings, scribe; Mrs. Cora Dover, treasurer; and Mrs. Thomas, three-year trustee.

Plans were made for installation Jan. 23. A gift exchange followed and lunch was served by Mrs. Mae Esenhuth, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Thomas. Thomas Dover, district representative to the Grand Encampment, was a guest.

Officers were elected and the name "Junior Miss Class" chosen Friday night for a Sunday School group of the Second Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Wayne Earnard of Palissey St., teacher, entertained for the affair. Linda McIntosh was named president; Joyce Young, secretary, and Patty Conley, treasurer. Devotions were given by Mrs. Barnard. Gifts were presented to each youngster and favors were candy-filled stockings.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her son, Artie Barnard, and Billy Richardson.

The January meeting will be held at the Barnard home with Linda McIntosh and Joyce Young hostesses. Patty Conley will lead devotions.

Church Rolls Hit High

NEW YORK (AP)—Episcopal church membership increased 2.74 per cent during 1952 over the previous year to reach a record of 2,715,825, it was reported yesterday in the church's annual yearbook.

A steam automobile was built in France in 1769.

City Clubs, Organizations Plan New Year Celebrations

Local clubs and organizations have many festivities scheduled to usher in the New Year. Amid horn blowing and dancing Wednesday night, merry-makers throughout the city will bid farewell to 1952 and welcome "little 1953."

Closing the holiday activities for the Country Club will be the annual formal dance for members and out-of-town guests. Paul Kuhn's orchestra of Lisbon will provide music for dancing from 10:30 o'clock until 2:30.

A Family Night affair will be featured for the Masons at the Masonic Temple with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Curry, chairman, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schneider.

Recorded music will be used. Some 200 reservations have been made for the Elks Club affair.

Music for the semi-formal event from 10 until 2 o'clock will be provided by Johnny Celi's orchestra and a balloon shower will be featured.

The committee includes David Anderson, Thomas Snape, John Webb, Joe Chetwynd and James Bolles.

Ralph Moorehead's orchestra of Wellsville will play for the dance of American Legion Post 4 at the Memorial Home.

Serving on the committee for the informal affair, scheduled from 10 until 1, will be William Bricker, Victor Dunn, Henry Schneider and Raymond Cunningham.

American Legion Post 374 has scheduled its event from 10 until 2 and Vince Mundy's orchestra of Wellsville will play.

Reservations have been made for 150 and Robert Landfried heads the committee.

A floor show will be featured for the celebration of Eagles Aerie 457 with Pittsburgh Teddy and his orchestra playing for dancing beginning at 10 o'clock. Homer Fultz is chairman.

"The Deacon and Dolly," pre-essional entertainers from Pitts- attend the celebration at the Moose burch, will present the floor show Lodge with Pat Vilella's orchestra for the Veterans of Foreign Wars playing for dancing from 10 until Post 66.

Music for dancing from 10 until 2 o'clock.

Admission will be by membership card and Arnold Densmore is chairman, assisted by Joseph Torrence, Richard Allen and Frank Shone.

First Atom Spy Leaves Prison

Britain Frees May For 'Good Behavior'

WAKEFIELD, England (AP)—The Western world's first convicted atom spy, Dr. Alan Nunn May, was released today from prison for "good behavior" although he never has publicly repented handing atomic secrets to Russia and still is an avowed Communist.

The slight 41-year-old physicist was said by an official spokesman to have been freed from Britain's grim Wormwood Scrubs Prison "during the night" after serving six years and eight months of a 10-year sentence.

May was convicted and sentenced after the famed Canadian spy plot was cracked in 1946. He told the court he slipped atomic secrets to Russian agents for the "safety of mankind." He would say nothing more about the case.

Under British law, authorities had to give him time off for good behavior. He is free to go and come as he pleases in this country so long as he stays out of trouble. May joined Britain's super-secret atomic program in April 1942. The following year he went to Canada to work in the U. S.—Canadian-British atomic program. During four trips to Chicago in 1944 he learned some of the steps that led to the construction of America's first atom bomb.

The physicist had returned to London in 1945 when a young Soviet embassy clerk in Ottawa, Igor Gouzenko, handed Western authorities an armload of secret Soviet documents that linked May with an amazing Russian plot to steal vital atomic secrets.

The Soviet records showed May got at least $700 and two bottles of whisky for his services. But it was clear money was not his object—he said he believed Russia should share the West's atomic developments.

Britain still holds in prison another famed atom spy, German-born Klaus Fuchs who was sentenced to 14 years on charges of giving nuclear secrets to Russia in 1950. A U. S. Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy said in 1951 that May and Fuchs and the American, David Greenglass—all convicted spies—advanced the Soviet atomic energy program by 18 months as a minimum.

MRS. LEROY SANTAMARINO
Bride of nuptials at church

Wellsville Couple Exchanges Vows Christmas Eve

In the parsonage of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Wellsville on Christmas Eve marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Frances Rowley and Leroy Santamarino. Her paternal grandmother was a charter member of the church, and the Rev. L. R. Carothers, pastor officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Rowley of Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and the late George Rowley, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Santamarino of 10th St., Wellsville.

A coral color ballerina-length gown was worn by the bride with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white rosebuds and her rhinestone necklace was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fraser, sister and brother-in-law, of the bride, were attendants and she chose a beige dress with black and gold accessories. Red rosebuds formed her corsage.

After a brief trip to Michigan, the couple will reside on W. Third St., East Liverpool.

The bride is a 1951 graduate of Wellsville High School and is employed at the Genuine Parts Co. Her husband works at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

Executive, Wife Killed

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Arthur Warren Ambrose, 63-year-old chairman of the board of the Cities Service Oil Company of Delaware, a subsidiary of Cities Service of New York, was killed in an automobile accident last night. Mrs. Ambrose died also.

Tree-Sitting 'Canine' Didn't Fool Neighbor

PROCTOR, Mont. (AP)—A "dog" sitting high up in a tree didn't seem surprising to a little boy—he hardly mentioned it to his fellow second-graders. But they wanted to see the tree-climbing "dog." And so did the boy's neighbor, Mrs. Maude Adams.

She took one look at the "dog" and then blasted the animal with her rifle. A 200-pound bear crashed down from the tree.
